Survey Shows Princetonians Have High Regard for Quality of Their Local Governments

"TOWN TOPICS readers have a considerably higher opinion of their local governments than readers of other weekly newspapers in New Jersey."

The word comes from Rutgers' Bureau of Government Research, reporting on a questionnaire which the Bureau asked weekly newspapers to run in late May. TOWN TOPICS is the only weekly in this part of New Jersey that ran the questionnaire, whose results have just been released.

Princeton residents responded "excellent" or "good" 46 percent of the time, compared to 17 percent in other communities. In Princeton, the highest rating of all ten "character traits" was awarded to "honesty," with "stability" and "participation" following right along.

The study is being done in cooperation with the New Jersey County and Municipal Government Study Commission--often called the Musto Commission, after Senator William Musto, its chairman. Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, is a member of the Commission.

Working under a contract with the state, and some funding from Rutgers, the Bureau is examining various forms of local government, considering things like the size of a council, the powers of a mayor, and so on. Information could provide support for new legislation that might make local government work better, according to Ernest C. Reock Jr., director of the Bureau.

Dr. Reock's survey provides a comparison of the views of TOWN TOPICS readers with the views of readers of other weeklies. In both groups, local governments were ranked lowest in "effectiveness."

"There seems to be--although this is only a conjecture--more concern and informed interest in local government in Princeton than there is generally throughout the state," is Dr. Reock's cautious comment.

At the time the questionnaire was distributed, Dr. Reock said his Bureau felt that readers of New Jersey weeklies "may well be persons who take an especially thoughtful interest in their local government and gain much of their knowledge of local affairs from a weekly newspaper. In this sense, we are knowingly aiming at an elite."

The questionnaire asked readers to rate local government on the following points:

- Economy - government that is least expensive.
- Responsiveness - does it do what residents want done?
- Honesty - discouragement of unethical or illegal practices.
- Stability - no capricious or frivolous change.
- Participation - encouragement of maximum participation by all.
- Effectiveness - does government solve community problems?

TURN RIGHT ON RED

Coming Janaury 2. Right turns on a red light – provided you stop first and proceed with caution – will be permitted by the state after January 2. But the Borough has four intersections under its jurisdiction which police and Traffic Safety Committee think ought to be exceptions.

Council introduced Tuesday night an ordinance prohibiting right turns on a red light at the following places:

• At Elm and Cleveland, no red-right turn for cars going west on Cleveland and turning north into Elm, or for cars going south on Elm turning right (west) into Rosedale.

• Also at Harrison and Hamilton, no red-right turn for cars going south on Harrison and turning right onto Hamilton.

• At Washington and Prospect, no red-right turn for cars traveling west on Prospect turning right (north) onto Hamilton.

• At Washington and Prospect, no red-right turn for cars traveling west on Prospect turning right (north) onto Washington.

Public hearing will be in December. The Borough also has a list of seven intersections not under its immediate jurisdiction where it wants the state to act.

Property Re-valuation. By a 3-3 split, Mayor Robert W. Cawley breaking the tie with a "yes", Council voted a $36,000 emergency appropriation allowing the Borough to obtain bids for re-evaluation of Borough property. Public hearing December 14.

"I'm more and more convinced this is an unnecessary move at this time," declared Gus Escher before his "no" vote. He was joined by Martin P. Lombardo, who protested that re-valuation would push marginal families out of the Borough, and by Nelson van den Blink who also protested the timing.

Joseph P. Moore pointed out that Borough assessors have been pressing for re-valuation each year, with supporting data. When Niels Nielsen, new student liaison to Council asked what data, Mr. Moore said that because re-valuation had been so long postponed, the Borough wasn't getting all the money it could from remodeling of homes. This had penalized all taxpayers, he said.

Mayor Cawley said Administrator Robert F. Mooney told him that in the previous re-valuation, in 1964, the impact was not traumatic, and the number of "sticky" cases was small. "Newcomers who paid high prices for old houses just aren't paying their share," mayor said.

New Council member William Selden, who voted "yes", warned that if there were a taxpayer's suit, the courts could require re-valuation.

Also voting "yes" was new council member Leona Medvin. She and Mr. Selden were sworn in before Council's meeting. Mrs. Millie Alpert, mother of Mrs. Medvin, who had celebrated her 87th birthday on her daughter's victorious election day, held the Bible. Alan Medvin, Mrs. Medvin's son, also joined the ceremony.

Mr. Selden was named Fire Commissioner and Mrs. Medvin was named to recreation and housing. Guests in Borough Hall for the swearing in were Township Mayor Jay

Survey on Governments

- Efficiency - greatest results per dollar spent.
- Accountability - assignment of responsibility and evaluation of performance.
- Balance - no over-concentration of power.
- Flexibility - adapting readily as conditions change.

On a scale going from "excellent" to "very poor," Princeton residents checked "poor" or "very poor" 35 percent of the time, compared to 62 percent elsewhere in New Jersey.

The lowest rating, in Princeton, was given to "effectiveness." This characteristic was also lowest in all other towns whose residents answered the questionnaire.

The Bureau weighted responses in such a way that if everybody had given an "excellent" rating to a certain performance, the score would be 1,000.

On that basis, Princeton gave "honesty" 722. "Stability" and "participation" were close behind with 612 and 607.

The Ratings. Princeton rated "economy," "balance" and "accountability" in the 500-category, with 546, 527, and 509. The score then begins to drop, with "responsiveness," "efficiency," "flexibility" and "effectiveness" rated at 483, 481, 472 and 466.

Weekly newspapers in other parts of the state, found that the highest rating given anything, was "stability," with only a 471—a sharp drop from Princeton's 722 awarded to "honesty." These communities did rate "honesty" second, but only with 469.

For Princeton, the Bureau did not provide a breakdown of Borough and Township responses.

Commenting on the low grade given to "effectiveness," Mayor Cawley said, "One of my pet peeves is that so much is decided for us in Trenton or in Washington. That's why we don't seem effective."

Two years ago, the Rutgers Bureau asked municipal officials, elected and civil servants, to evaluate their governments. Not surprisingly, 72 percent of municipal officials rated their governments "excellent," or "good."

A Positive View. "I have a pretty positive view of the government here," Mayor Cawley declared. He pointed out that the borough form of government usually rates high in surveys like these.

"A borough is small, it's gone through the growing pains of development, it is a manageable unit with a center, and big-city blight hasn't hit it yet. Also, a community that has an administrator, is a community more or less affluent and progressive--these are positive signs."

The mayor pointed out that in towns without an administrator, elected officials have to cope with budgeting, financial planning, a morass of regulations.

"Volunteers in a relatively sophisticated town don't have to get involved," he said, "there are still towns in New Jersey where you've got to get out and marshall the troops to plow the snow!"

According to Dr. Reock, the Bureau of Government Research ran its questionnaire in newspapers because it was cheaper to do it that way. Response, by and large, was disappointing, he said. In only two areas of the state, did he feel justified in preparing analyses of responses. From Princeton, where TOWN TOPICS ran the questionnaire once, on May 27, there were 29 returns. The other area was upper Passaic and Morris Counties, where a newspaper chain ran the questionnaire four times. The response there was a total of 74 replies from all four.

Bleiman and Freeholder Barbara Sigmund. Jan Schneier, whose seat Mr. Selden took, and Marvin Tratman, whose seat Mrs. Medvin now fills, were both absent. Mr. Tratman has been ill.

No smoking in any public meeting in Borough Hall, following 5-1 passage of the no-smoking ordinance. Mr. Moore's "no" – he's a smoker – came because he thinks there should have been more choice, like a smoking section. Smokers can leave any meeting for a quick one in the corridors, but Mayor Cawley said sternly at his press conference that members of public bodies will be expected to stay on duty.

John Madden of the Joint Effort Sports Foundation, said his group had no place to play basketball since the schools had clamped down on the use of the Middle School gym, and he asked for a bubble over the John Street court for winter play.

Mr. Madden joined by John Young of Joint Effort, said that the 30 to 100 young men in the group, some as young as ten, had been playing in the Middle School gym four nights a week and Saturdays without charge for the past three or four years. Now Mr. Madden said, they have been allowed only one night, and must pay for that. Mr. Young said the Saturday rate imposed by the schools is $9 an hour.

"These are kids who could get into trouble," Mr. Young said later. "It's not just basketball -- it's a program, something for them to do, for kids and men who aren't in the basketball leagues."

"Go after the Recreation Board and the schools!" exclaimed Mayor Cawley.

Having interviewed four candidates, Council appointed Edward J. Lacey, 13 Madison, assistant to the tax collector-treasurer, Lawrence Patterson. On Mr. Patterson's retirement, this January, Mr. Lacey will assume the title.

Under state law, the post is elective, and Council has manuvered in such a way that Mr. Lacey, at primary time in April, will announce which party he belongs to. The other party, by written agreement, will not run a candidate against him, and he will carry the election. After he's won two four-year terms, he has tenure and doesn't have to run again.

Council accepted the resignation of Kerry Klink from the police force, and named William Nathan, a native of New Delhi, India, as probationary officer in his place. In another appointment, lawyer T. Frederick Kenny, 174 Moore, was appointed public member of the Rent Levelling Board.

Planning Board to Hear Firm's Estimate Why Princeton Needs 650 More Homes in Township

Where can newly-weds live in Princeton? What can they afford? Where do retired people go? What are the price ranges for houses in Princeton?

Questions like these are part of the housing-needs (and land use planning) studies that will be presented to the Princeton Regional Planning Board next Monday by Gibbs & Hill, the developers who hope to build an eventual 650 homes on 230 acres in the northern part of the Township.

The land is owned by the Dravo Corporation, which bought it in April, 1975, from Karl Dravo Pettit, of Ridgeview Road. Gibbs & Hill is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dravo, and is a planning and architecture firm.

Gibbs & Hill asked for the special meeting, which will be held at 8 p.m. in Township Hall. They have also asked for a special meeting with Township Committee, but no date has yet been set.

Gladstone Associates, of Washington, D.C., a real estate marketing research firm, did the studies. They, with Gibbs & Hill, will present the results of their study of housing needs and problems, and their ideas on how these can be solved.

According to A.C. Reeves Hicks, attorney for Gibbs & Hill, the developers will suggest a relatively broad spectrum in price, "not solely big houses on big lots, although some of those, too."

The Planning Board has itself been engaged in housing studies for some years, and Mr. Hicks said the Gladstone material will be added to the pile. He added, "Our conclusions may not be the same as those of the Planning Board."

BLAIR TO TAKE SEAT

Following Election. David Blair will be sworn in this Thursday night as a member of Township Committee, taking the seat that Abbot Low Moffat has held by appointment since June. There are two years remaining in this position and Mr. Blair, a Democrat, last week defeated Republican William Cherry in the race for the seat.

Mr. Moffat has been Township Committee's representative on the Planning Board. Committee is expected to make an appointment to the board Thursday night, but whether Mr. Blair will be proposed, is an open question. Republicans are expected to object, if he is.

Thursday's meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Township Hall. The agenda also includes public hearing on repealing the ordinance for acquisition of bikepath easements along The Great Road, an ordinance no longer needed since private donors are giving the community a bikeway in the road.

Committee will consider the gift of 10 acres of Brookstone land from L.S. Greene. The land, in the flood plain, adjoins property already given to the Township by Mr. Greene.

In work session time, Committee will talk about Princeton Community Housing's hope that the Township will ask for state Green Acres money to buy the Kleinberg tract. It's across Bunn Drive from Princeton Community Village and is used for gardens and recreation. PCH would like to have it permanently for those uses.

At a special meeting last Thursday afternoon, Committee passed a resolution amending its application for Green Acres bikepath money. Amendments delete the privately-donated Great Road path and the Parkside-Quaker segment, substituting a path connecting with the Borough's projected path at Leigh Avenue and winding through the new Community Park development.

Committee also went on a "walk" through the proposed land-use ordinance with attorney Gordon Griffin. Although Committee hopes for action by the end of the year, its labors are behind those of the Borough. New Jersey towns must comply with the state's new land-use law by February 1.

Committee decided against allowing the Planning Board to develop the whole capital improvement program, but otherwise decided on further study for much of the proposed ordinance. For example, no decision has yet been made on what kinds of

INJURIES ARE FATAL

To Man Struck by Car. William J. Schannell 2d, 49, of 21 Wiggins Street died of injuries he sustained last week when he was struck by a car on Alexander Street.

Mr. Schannell, a life-long Princeton resident, was hit about 5:45 last Wednesday afternoon in front of 306 Alexander, some 100 yards south of the Faculty Road intersection. He was taken to Princeton Medical Center, where he died at 3:20 Thursday morning of multiple internal injuries.

Police have made no charges against the driver, August T. Barth, 58, 27 Olden Lane. Township Traffic Safety Officer Anthony Nini reported there was heavy traffic on Alexander Street at the time. Witnesses reported, he said, that speeding was not involved.

Sgt. Nini commented that as far as the police investigation headed by Ptl. John Hammond has been able to ascertain, Mr. Schannell had evidently finished work and was crossing Alexander Street to his pickup truck. He had been employed for the past 15 years by the Princeton Fuel Oil Company on Alexander Street.

"For some reason," continued Sgt. Nini," it appears as if Mr. Schannell turned to go back to the Fuel Oil building and was struck by Mr. Barth's car."

Sgt. Nini reported that it was dark at the time and the roadway was dry. Although Township police have made no charges, they have, as in all death-by-auto accidents, turned over their findings to a Mercer County Grand Jury. It was the fourth accident fatality in the Township this year.

Was PHS Graduate. Mr. Schannell was a graduate of Princeton High School He enlisted in the Navy at 17 and served as a crewman on the destroyer-escort USS Gandy in the Atlantic and Pacific.

He was a member for more than 25 years of Engine Company No. 3, serving as a foreman; past president of the Princeton Rod and Gun Club and a member of American Legion Post 339 in Hopewell.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Alice Schannell and several aunts, uncles and cousins. The funeral was held Saturday, with burial in St. Paul's Cemetery.

Girl, 12, Hit by Truck. A 12-year old Princeton girl, playing tag while waiting for a bus to take her to Princeton Day School, was struck Thursday morning by a truck on Stanley Avenue, 15 feet from the intersection of Hamilton.

The victim, Carolyn L. Kuenne, 63 Bainbridge Street, was treated at the Medical Center for contusions and abrasions of the right ankle, leg and arm.

There were no charges by Ptl. Peter Hanley against the truck driver, William Fiabane, 50 Fisher Avenue. Ptl. Hanley quoted the victim as saying she was playing tag when she saw the school bus coming and told her playmate "we better catch the bus and I ran into the car."

RENT STUDY?

Borough May Ask State Money. The Borough may be ready next month to apply for state money to finance a rent-levelling study, Borough Council member Gus Escher said this week.

Application would be made to a revolving housing demonstration fund in the Department of Community Affairs–a fund, incidentally, whose acting director is Princeton Regional Planning Board member Martha Lamar–for about $40,000, Mr. Escher said.

The Council member said that, under state procedures, the Borough might provide around $2,000 "in-kind time"--meaning the services of the rent co-ordinator or others on the Borough payroll. The state would then foot the rest of the bill.

The proposal has been blocked out by Alvin E. Gershen Associates, Inc. Mr. Escher has asked the Gershen staff member involved, to work with rent-levelling memos prepared by the present and former rent co-ordinator; by Hans Lechner, landlord representative of the Rent Levelling Board, and John Huntoon, a Borough resident, and to put their remarks into the standard Community Affairs format. This is expected by the end of the week, Mr. Escher has been told.

The study could help other communities in New Jersey, and for that reason, may well interest Community Affairs, Mr. Escher hopes. For example, Mr. Escher suggests that the study might include a "how-to" for developing a fair rent-increase formula.

The pedestrians told police they heard the "whiz" of the shots as they went by. Sgt. David Potts investigated and ascertained that the shots had come from a home on Valley Road. The youth was turned over to Township Juvenile Officer Anthony Pinelli for porcessing.

Chief Frederick Porter urged the parents of all youths in the community who own BB guns to use all safety factors and not allow their children to fire them except on a range and under struct supervision.

HOME IS LOOTED

Haul Exceeds $3,000. Video, audio and photographic equipment with a total value of more than $3,000 was stolen last week from the 330 State Road residence of Bert Brown. A pane of glass in a front door had been broken to gain entrance, police said.

Taken were a video tape camera, recorder, monitor, three microphones with extension cables valued at $2,000; 10 rolls of video tape ($400) a 35mm and movie camera ($505), six silver dollars, six silver half dollars and a jar of pennies (approximately $20).

Detectives Frank Boccanfuso and Norman Servis are continuing the initial investigation by Ptl. John Hammond. Police report the entry took place between Oct. 29 and Nov. 1.

Between 9:45 Friday morning and 2:10 in the afternoon, a thief broke a pane of glass to reach in and unlick the rear door of the home of Mary A. Whiting, 99 Leigh Avenue.

A small bank was broken into and approximately $5 in coins were taken but otherwise, police said, nothing was disturbed. The victim discovered the entry when she returned home.

In another Township breaking and entering, a portable TV set was stolen Thursday from a second floor bedroom of the home of Benjamin Colbert, 101 Leigh Avenue. Desk drawers and a metal filing box in a study had also been searched, police said.

The investigation by Det. Boccanfuso revealed that a pane of glass in a rear door had been smashed. The entry took place between 8 a.m. and 3:15 p.m.

MANSFIELD HONORED

STUDENT CHARGED

With Shoplifting. Cheryl Walker, 18, of the Princeton Inn Dorm, Princeton University, has been charged by Borough police with shoplifting a $60 mohair throw shawl Saturday from Stone'a Linen Shop, 20 Nassau Street.

Miss Walker, who is scheduled to appear in Borough court on Wednesday, was apprehended by Sgt. Thomas Michaud and Ptl. David Alston as she was leaving another shop on Witherspoon Street. Police said that she had a shawl in her possession.

Police had been given a description of the suspect by the shop's owner. She was later seen on Witherspoon Street by a Stone's customer, who notified police. (See Mailbox, Page 18).

Fred Bohen Tapped by Carter Aides To Assist Incoming Administration

Fred Bohen, 128 Fitzrandolph Road, has been asked by transition planners for President-elect Jimmy Carter to "stand by."

"I have no specific assignment," Mr. Bohen said this week, "but Jack Watson, who's directing planning for Carter, has asked me to extend my leave from the Carnegie Council and I have done so."

Mr. Bohen is an educational researcher for the Carnegie Council on Higher Education. He said that he expects later this week to be in Washington, where the Carter planners have moved from Atlanta. Mr. Watson is directing and co-ordinating transition from the Ford to Carter administrations.

There are three possible areas where he may be asked to contribute, Mr. Bohen said. Citing his experience in appointments with the Lyndon B. Johnson administration, he said that selecting Carter cabinet members, heads of agencies and second and third echelon staff members might be areas where he would be called upon for help. He worked on appointments briefly, he pointed out, with New York Governor Hugh Carey in 1975. He has also had a similar role in the Ford Foundation.

Second, he said, he might do liaison work with major departments, working "with the outgoing team," and finally, might be involved in program and policy planning related to Carter's priorities.

The big pile of papers the President-elect has taken on vacation, Mr. Bohen said, includes the major-options paper on executive offices and agencies, to which Mr. Bohen contributed, and the "scenario of transition," of which Mr. Bohen was one of the chief authors.

NEPAL TRIP IS TOPIC

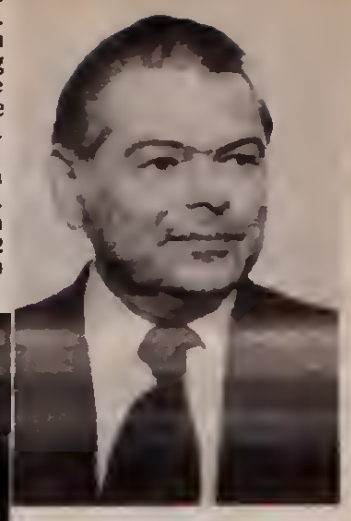
Of College Club Meeting. The Women's College Club will hear a talk Monday at 8 by Dr. Roger V. Mosely on his "Trip to Nepal" a year ago in a meeting at All Saints church.

Dr. Mosely, a surgeon and president of the Medical and Dental Staff of Princeton Medical Center, will present his slides of the people, the countryside and the mountains encountered by the group of 15 travelers and 55 porters in aafive week climbing excursion in the Himalayas last November. Members, families and guests are welcome.

SQUARE DANCING SET

In West Windsor. The West Windsor Recreation Commission and the "Castoff Squares," a square dance club with members from Mercer, Middlesex, and Monmouth Counties, are co-sponsoring a series of classes for beginners. Classes will be held each Monday, 7:30 to 10:30, starting on Monday at the Maurice Hawk School on Clarksville Road in Princeton Junction. Art Seele is the caller-teacher.

The $1 per person per lesson includes refreshments. Classes will continue through the winter and spring for 22 weeks and are limited to 40 beginners.



Gillett Griffin

MAYAN ART IS TOPIC

Of Library Talk. Gillett Griffin will speak at Princeton Public Library on "The Underworld of the Maya" Wednesday at 8. His talk will be illustrated with color slides of Mayan art.

Mr. Griffin, who is curator of Pre-Columbian and Primitive Art at Princeton Art Museum, has been collecting ancient American art for many years. He has long been fascinated by the vivid expression in this art of beliefs and practices concerning demons as well as gods, death style as well as life style.

He made his first trip to Mexico in 1961 to see the sites where such art was made. This became a quest taking him to many remote sections of Mexico and Guatemala. These explorations involved him in a number of exotic experiences, including the discovery and identification of the earliest paintings in the New World, deep in a cave in Guerro--the first Olmec paintings identified. He explored and mapped the Olmec site of Chalcatzingo, where he found several previously unknown monuments, as well as many other locations.

In 1973, along with Hugh and Suzanne Johnston, he rediscovered the great Mayan Temple B at Rio Bec, an adventure recorded in the Johnstons' film "Mystery of the Maya." One of the most perfect examples of Mayan architecture, it had been lost since the first sighting by an archeologist in 1912. Like other examples of Mayan art, Temple B contains graphic representation of beliefs in underworld gods and death symbolism.

ORIENTATION IS TOPIC

Of Aging Seminar at YWCA. "Reality Orientation," a technique for dealing with the confused and disoriented older person will be discussed at the third YWCA Seminar on Aging, Monday at 9:30 a.m.

Nancy Munson, R.N., and Alice Young, Activities Director at the Merwick Unit of the Princeton Medical Center, will present the underlying principles of reality orientation, remotivation and sensory retraining as they apply to caring for the older person who is temporarily confused. Used as a preventative tool, reality orientation helps the individual maintain a sense of independence during the aging phase of life.

Two films will be shown, "Myths and Realities" and "The Confused Person," dealing with attitudes toward the person who is on the brink of confusion or who suffers from temporary memory lapses. The seminar is open to the public. A registration fee of $2.50 may be mailed or brought to the YWCA office. Interested participants may also sign up for a visit to Merwick to observe this technique in use.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part or all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 20 cents.

AUCTION ORGANIZERS: Members of the Rotary Club committee which is organizing a Radio Auction for the benefit of the Eden Institute for Autistic Children are, from left, Terry Blackburn, Jack Cooper, Rotary president, and Peter Hodge. They are shown with some of the items to be auctioned Friday, November 19, between 7:30 and 11:30 p.m. over station WHWH. (John Apai Photo)

RADIO AUCTION SET

By Rotary For Autistic Children. A 21-inch Table TV, a CB Radio, a tape recorder, three sports jackets, a weekend at the Nassau Inn, use of a skilled carpenter or a skilled mason for one day, 10 bags of lawn fertilizer, three $50 savings accounts, use of a balloon for a day, dinner for two at Forsgate – these and many more donations of gifts and services will be auctioned off to the highest bidders at the Radio Auction of the Rotary Club of Princeton on Friday, November 19.

The auction will take place on WHWH from 7:30 until 11:30 p.m. with net proceeds to be donated to the Eden Institute for Autistic Children, 33 Mercer Street. Additional donations of cash, merchandise or services may be made by calling 924-6416.

3 SUSPECTS SOUGHT

Following Robbery Attempt. Assault with intent to rob is the charge, but Township police haven't apprehended the three suspects who entered Princeton Aqua Sports, 306 Alexander Street, early Thursday evening and attempted to flee with a cigar box containing $13.52.

As one grabbed the box, the manager Maurice Coutts, tussled with him. During the melee, he received a laceration over his nose and eyebrow. A sales clerk also sustained a sprained right index finger.

One suspect was described as 22, 5-11, 160 pounds, thin, with medium length brown hair, wearing a blue windbreaker and blue pants. The second as 20, 6-0, 200 pounds, stocky, with a pudgy face and dark hair. He was wearing a class ring, a brownish-lumberman's type jacket and dark trousers.

The third: 19, 5-9, 150 pounds, thin, with medium-long brownish-red hair with a pock-marked face. He was wearing a light-colored windbreaker and light brown khaki pants.

Two had come in and browsed, trying on a pair of swim goggles, the manager said. Later a third suspect had come in, browsed, and left. A short while later all three returned.

The incident is being investigated by Detectives Norman Servis and Frank Boccanfuso.

UNICEF CARDS ON SALE

At Cabin Creek Quilts. This year's international collection of UNICEF holiday greeting cards and calendars is now on sale at the Cabin Creek Quilts Shop, 195 Nassau Street. The shop is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 to 5.

The United Nations Children's Fund is a non-political, non-discriminatory organization concerned with the welfare of the world's neediest children. UNICEF helps over 100 developing countries launch and sustain important long-range projects in the fields of health, education, nutrition, clean water supply, and social welfare services. The assisted nation and UNICEF share responsibility for the programs, with UNICEF's investment more than matched by the partner country's commitment of staff, building materials, supplies or funds.

The purchase of cards and calendars goes a long way in supporting UNICEF's programs for children. Proceeds from one box of cards provides enough Vitamin A capsules to protect 25 children against nutritionally-caused blindness for a year; or 300 Chloroquine tablets to control malaria, one of the leading child-killers; or seven packets of tomato seeds for a school or community garden. Seven boxes can stock a village pond with fish for needed portein.

Proceeds are converted into food and medicine, clean water, shelter and school materials, as well as providing stipends for health, education and social welfare workers. In emergency situations such as the Guatemala earthquake and African droughts, the proceeds from UNICEF card sales means the difference between death and survival for many children.

For additional information call Cabin Creek Quilts, 921-1278.

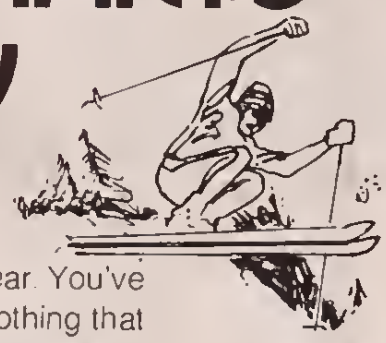
GOOD FORM STARTS AT VARSITY



Even a novice knows you can't ski well without good gear. You've got to have boots that fit, properly mounted bindings, clothing that keeps you warm but lets you freely flex your legs and arms. And most important, skis that are right for your size, strength and capability. Here at Varsity we have everything you need in both ski equipment and apparel and everything we carry is top quality.

Now that doesn't mean it's all expensive. You can spend a whole lot for an "expert package" or you can spend a whole lot less — because we design packages in a wide range of prices. But we guarantee that no matter what the price, you're still getting a solid quality buy.

Choose famous brands such as Hexcel, Hanson, Olin, Besser, Burt and Bogner. Or Rossignol, Nordica, Salomon, Head, Gerry, Slalom or Edelweiss. See if after a visit to Varsity, you don't look better, feel better, ski better.

Come to Varsity, the place where good form starts.
At Varsity we're on your side.

TWO AREAS ARE FOCUS Of Historical Series Talk. The Historical Society's Evening Lecture Series on Princeton's Neighborhoods will feature Aqueduct and Cedar Grove on Thursday evening, November 11, at 8 in the Convocation Room, Engineering Quadrangle, Olden Street.

Mrs. Helen Westcott, a trustee of the Society, will speak on Aqueduct, an early 18th century mill community on the Millstone River between Route 1 and Lake Carnegie. She has some interesting old photographs, some of which have not been shown in public before.

Cedar Grove, an 18th century community just off the Great Road, will be the focus of Elric Endersby, Jr., editor of the Princeton Recollector. He will lead a discussion with Elmer Leigh, Cedar Grove's oldest living resident, whose family in Cedar Grove goes back to the mid-19th century.

The evening lecture is free, and the public is invited.

SAFE IS REMOVED From American Legion Home. A 240-lb. safe was stolen last week from the American Legion Home on Lytle Street. It contained approximately $50.

After breaking a basement window, the thieves carted the safe through a door, police said. Det. Ronald Holliday in continuing investigation of the theft reported at 7:27 Friday morning.

A Witherspoon Street home was entered and its bedroom ransacked last week by an intruder who broke a window pane in a front door to enter. An undetermined amount of money was taken.

In other Borough thefts, $30 was taken from a student's room in 1903 Hall on the Princeton University campus – there was no sign of forced entry – and an $85, three-quarter, down-filled jacket was taken from the Nassau Inn. Police said the owner, a Princeton resident, had been attending a seminar at the Inn.

Third Canoe Stolen. There was another canoe theft in the Township – the third reported by police in two weeks.

Dirck Dimock, 7U Hibbeo Apartments, told police Saturday that his aluminum canoe, which had been chained to a telephone pole at the rear of the apartments, was missing. It was valued at $175.

The parked cars of three area residents were broken into last week while their owners were playing tennis at the Community Park courts. Taken from the trousers of Richard G. Malsbury of Ringoes, police said, were a $150 calculator and $11 from his wallet. Personal items from the wallet were later found about 100 yards away on the school grounds.

Police added that apparently nothing was taken from cars owned by Paul B. Nalin, Northgate Apartments, Cranbury, and William P. Nemceff, 213 Varsity Avenue, Penns Neck.

Tires Slashed. Michael Stachowicz, 277 Walnut Lane, called police Sunday morning to report that the tires on the left side of his pickup truck had been slashed during the night.

His truck had been parked on Oakland Street next to his home. He valued the tires at $60 each.

ASK FULL-TIME PLANNER For Community. The Planning Board, ever hopeful, has once again included a full-time resident planner in its 1977 budget request. The dollar amount is $17,500 for a ten-month contract. The board passed its budget resolution at its November meeting last Wednesday.

The board also accepted the "Sector I"–core of housing study, and it's now ready to be written into the housing element of the community Master Plan.

In addition to acting on Princeton Theological Seminary's plans for remodeling an old Borough house into apartments–see page 1B, this issue–the board recommended conversion of space in the 195 Nassau Street building from office to retail use. That request will go before the Zoning Board next Thursday.

Board member William H. Walker agreed to represent the board at a meeting this Wednesday of the Mercer County Planning Board.

TWO SALES PLANNED

At Stuart School. Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart will hold a New Book Sale and a Next-to-New Clothing Sale all next week.

Sister Barbara Cooper initiated a poster contest to stimulate interest in the New Book Sale, which will be held Monday through Friday from 9 to 4:30. Michele Gillespie, a tenth grader, won a $20 gift certificate to the sale for a poster which has been duplicated and is being used to advertise the sale. Stephanie Mulinos, a seventh grader, won honorable mention and a $5 certificate.

Three Princeton authors, Alvin Schwartz, Ralph Schoenstein and Mimi Schwartz, will speak to the students at different times during the week in connection with the sale. Titles Unlimited of Montgomery Shopping Center will provide the books and has stipulated that anyone purchasing books at its shop until December 4 and mentioning Stuart will entitle the school to receive credit for the purchases.

Running concurrently with the New Book Sale will be the annual Next-to-New Clothing Sale in which hundreds of clothing items will be available, Monday through Friday from 9 - 4:30.

TO SHOW ARTIFACTS

At YWCA Craft Show. The YWCA will present its third annual Craftwomen's Marketplace Saturday, November 20, from 10 to 4. Every room in the YM-YWCA building on Paul Robeson Place will be filled with craft demonstrations and sales in time for holiday gift-giving. In addition, the Marketplace will feature an exhibit of the findings of the first archaeological excavation conducted in the Princeton area, the Hudibras Tavern dig.

Presented by the Arts Council through courtesy of the Historical Society the exhibit includes artifacts of glass, metal, pottery, even animal bones and seafood shells, revealing much about the cuisine at the old Hudibras Tavern. Researching remains that date back to 1750, the cooperative efforts of the Princeton community and Princeton University have revealed much about the Tavern's importance as a public meeting place and its role during the Revolution.

Both the Hudibras exhibit and all the crafts are open to the public for a donatioin of $1 to the YWCA's Pearl Bates Scholarship Fund. This fund is a memorial to a past member of the YWCA Board of Directors who worked to establish the Y-Teen program and to organize scholarships and activities for Princeton youths some 20 years ago.

DRAWINGS SOUGHT

By Opera Association. Clarence Chang, president of the Princeton Opera Association, has issued an invitation to children of any age to submit drawings or paintings of their conception of what Globolinks might look like. The Opera Association will present a Gian Carlo Menotti musical theater piece for children about invaders from outer space called "Help! Help! The Globolinks." It will be performed December 4 at 1:30 and 3:15 at the John Witherspoon School.

All works submitted will be displayed in Princeton area libraries beginning a week before the performance. The works may be done in any medium and should be mailed or delivered to Mr. Chang at 11 Murray Place by November 20. The name and address of the artist should be clearly printed on the back of the picture.

Pictures will not be returned unless accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

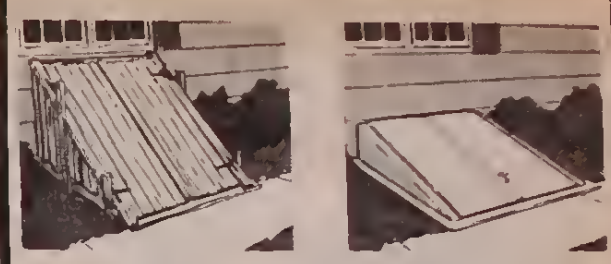
MODELING NEXT-TO-NEW CLOTHING: Merla Ingham, of Hopewell (front) Leslie Johnson of Princeton (left) and Leslie Smith of East Windsor try on some of the items to be found in the Next-To-New Clothing Sale at Stuart Country Day School which will run concurrently with a New Book Sale Monday through Friday from 9 to 4:30.

School Goals Interest You?

If you'd like to be one of the five Borough representatives on the Princeton schools' District Committee for Goal Development, call Borough Hall – 924-3119.

The Committee has been set up by the school board in response to state requirements under the thorough-and-efficient education law. The school board – and the Borough – would like a cross-section: members of minority groups, business people, University-Seminary-Choir College representation, the elderly, service organizations.

There will be five members appointed by Township Committee also, but machinery hasn't been set up yet in that municipality.



What a difference a Bilco Door makes!

Here's the way to add new beauty to your home. Replace that wooden hatchway with a modern, all steel Bilco Door. It's ruggedly built, weather-tight, and so easy for everyone in the family to use! What's more, it will make your basement more secure against intrusion. And it will pay for itself many times over by saving repair and replacement costs.

If your home was built without the convenience of a direct basement entrance, ask us for Bilco's new handbook "How to Add Valuable Living Space to Your Home."

Stop in and see our display. We'll give you free literature on how to do it. Or, we can suggest a man to install it for you.

New From England...FRUIT PRESERVES

APRICOT
BLACK CURRANT
GREENGAGE PLUM
GOOSEBERRY
RED VICTORIA PLUM
RASPBERRY
STRAWBERRY

The English reputation for preserves is well established and we are pleased to offer our first selection made in the heart of the English Country side in Dorset.

The secret in England is the high fruit content produced by a slow cooking process, together with old fashioned cooking skill, unduplicated by modern mass production methods. The small batches made by hand result in quite a different texture from preserves mixed by machine.

SHEEHAN APPEALS

In Hospital Case. Denied a favorable ruling from Superior Court Judge George Y. Schoch, Timothy J. Sheehan has filed a motion for appeal in his suit against the Medical Center of Princeton and the Borough Zoning Board.

Mr. Sheehan filed his appeal October 26, the same day Judge Schoch, in a re-hearing of the case granted at Mr. Sheehan's request, ruled in favor of the Medical Center. The Center had asked Mr. Sheehan to apeed any appellate process so that construction work can begin at the hospital. Judge Schoch's earlier decision, handed down October 8, had also been in favor of the Medical Center.

Mr. Sheehan's suit charges that the Zoning Board gave the Medical Center permission to expand without making "findings of fact." The Center, Mr. Sheehan told the Court, had presented "no credible evidence of the existence of hardship"as defined by the law, nor had the Center presented evidence to show that its request wouldn't damage the intent and purpose of the zoning law.

PHS STUDENT STABBED

During Hallway Fight. A 16-year old Princeton High School student was atabbed last Wednesday by a 17-year old student during a fight between the two in a school hallway. Police said that charges would be made against both.

The victim was treated at Princeton Medical Center, where sutures were used to close a penknife wound in his upper left rib cage. He will be charged with assault and battery. His assailant will be charged with atrocious asaault and battery and possession of a deadly weapon. Police said that both youths have been suspended from school.

The investigation is being continued by Det. Douglas Watson, the Borough Juvenile Officer. He and Det. Thomas Procaccino responded to a call at 12:45 by PHS principal George Petrillo.

EARRINGS AVAILABLE: Artisan Allan Feinberg and chairman Maxine Gurk examine Mr. Feinberg's delicate and unusual jewelry fashioned from rare and foreign coins. These pieces, as well as many other handcrafted gift items, will be featured at the annual Holiday Craft and Gift Boutique at the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street, Sunday, from 9 to 5. Admission is free, and refreshments will be available all day.

OIL IS TOPIC

Of League Meetings. Princeton Area League of Women Voters will present a film and discussion at two unit meetings, Tuesday and Wednesday, concerning offshore oil and gas development. The film, produced by the Conservation Foundation, is titled "Oo-shore Planning for Offshore Oil: Voices from Scotland," and graphically shows what can happen when oil and gas are discovered off our coast.

Since the first oil discovery in the North Sea in 1970, the Scots have experienced one of the most rapid and extensive oil development build-ups anywhere – much like what is apt to happen along New Jersey's coast in the next few years. The discussion will involve existing Federal and State laws plus land use laws that will influence this on-shore development as well as impending laws.

FIVE ARE FINED

For Speeding. Five Princeton area residents were fined $15 each for speeding by Judge Philip Carchman Monday in Borough traffic court.

They are Lynn C. VanPelt, 3 Park Way, Plainsboro; Marilyn Steeg, 182 Moore Street; Alan C. Henderson, 267 Russell Road; Toby Cowen, 721 Kingston Road; and Judyth Guldalian, 70 Pennington-Lawrenceville Road.

Thomas Strange, 19 Hamilton Avenue, was fined $60 and had his license revoked for six months for driving while impaired by alcohol. He was also placed on six months AA probation.

In addition, he was fined $35 for leaving the scene of an accident and $20 for careless driving.

Others: Vasco Fernandes, 45 Spelman Hall, Princeton University, $15, red light; Bruce Kieffer, 415A Butler Avenue, $20, improper turn; Joan F. Trautman, 11 Maple Lane, Pennington, $25, obstructing passage; and Elizabeth Dye, 13 Hillsdale Road, Lawrenceville, $35, failure to keep right.

In Township court last week, acting Judge Robert P. Casey fined Patina M. Blount, 34 Rollingmead and Marianne Fumia, 90 Dodds Lane, $35 and $45 for careless driving.

Alison Recca of Belle Mead paid two fines: $25 for improper display of plates and $20 for unregistered vehicle. William J. Neuenschwander IV of Cherry Valley Road also paid two fines of $25 each on two separate charges of crossing the center line. His license, in addition, was suspended for 60 days.

The charges against Mr. Neuenschwander were both citizen complaints, an unusual occurrence in police records. One was brought by Blair Sadler, 8 Mershon Drive, the other by Angela Wakeham, 44 Nassau Street. Both were driving cars on Route 206 South last June 12, and signed charges against Mr. Neuenschwander that he had endangered them by crossing over the center line.

Speeding cost Joseph Henderson, E30 Tupelo Row, and Austin R. Ehrlich, 41 Littlebrook Road, $35 and $20 respectively. Ottavia Grasso, 605B Butler Avenue, was fined $30 for a stop sign violation and Kristine Campbell, 71 W. Broad Street, Hopewell, was fined $25 for failing to yield while exiting from a private drive.

Diabetes can be detected by the physician in its beginning stages before symptoms are apparent to the individual. Regular physical examinations provide the opportunity for early detection. Diabetes shows when the kidneys eliminate excessive amounts of sugar which accumulates in the blood. This means that tissues lack an adequate energy supply. The result is a constant feeling of hunger, and in weight loss, and the tendency to tire easily. Excessive itching, a change in vision, wounds that do not heal readily–these are all symptoms of diabetes.

When was the last time you checked your first aid cabinet? A stop at FORER PHARMACY, 160 Witherspoon is all it takes to put your supplies back into tip-top condition. Don't wait for an emergency to arise to find you are out of the necessities. Phone us today at 921-7287. We're open Mon. thru Sat. from 9 to 9 and Sun. from 9 to 3.

BOROUGH MAN NAMED
As Probationary Officer. William Nathan, 24, of Witherspoon Lane, was named by Police Commissioner Joseph Moore Tuesday night to be appointed by Mayor and Council as a probationary officer in the Borough police department.

Officer Nathan replaces Ptl. Kerry Klink of 35 Erdman Avenue, who resigned October 31 after serving six and one-half years on the force. Klink is a graduate of Princeton High School

---

A native of New Delhi, India, Officer Nathan has his associate degree in police science from Mercer County Community College. Previously, he was employed as a correctional officer in Lamberville by the Mercer County Correctional Department and is presently a junior at Trenton State College.

He was chosen from the department's existing examination list, Chief Michael Carnevale reported.

Two other Borough probationary officers have graduated as members of the 158th municipal police class conducted by the New Jersey State Police at its training center in Sea Girt. They are Randy L. Sutton and Chris A. Boutote.

Their addition brings to six the number of new officers that have joined the Borough force since July, 1975. In addition to Boutote, Sutton and Nathan, Ptl. William Clark, Ptl. John Reppe and Ptl. Monica Sheehan are the department's newest members.

The turnover, which Chief Carnevale acknowledged was an "unusual situation," is the consequence, he said, of resignations and retirements. Since July of last year, Sgt. Arthur Gallant and Officer William Guinn have retired; Ptl. David Lewis and Ptl. Klink resigned and Det. Anthony Ranfone was granted a medical disability.

The department is now up to its full strength of 29 officers. Chief Carnevale said.

WORKSHOP PLANNED
To Train Baby Sitters. Parent to Parent, an organization for parents of children with birth-oriented problems, will hold an alert babysitters workshop on Wednesday, November 17 at 8, in the library of Merwick Unit, 79 Bayard Lane. Crystal Groth RN, Community Health Nurse, at Princeton Medical Center, will conduct the program, an introductory lesson to the course which is designed to meet the needs of special children.

The workshop will offer parents the opportunity to express their special needs. Data forms will be available for this purpose so the babysitters can be trained to meet these needs. Members of Teen Action Program, a March of Dimes service group will be participating.

Parents, professionals and community members interested in alert babysitting training are invited. For further information call Judy Lewis, 695-3699 or Patti Plittman, 448-7717.

APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED
At Day Nursery. The Princeton Nursery School at 78 Leigh Avenue is accepting applications for the winter session.

The School offers an accredited full day child care program for children age 27 months through pre-kindergarten, emphasizing each child's social and emotional development. Tuition is based on sliding fee scale.

For further information regarding admissions, contact Jean Bosley, Director, Princeton Nursery School, at 921-8606 or Deborah Endo, Family Service Agency, at 924-2098.

MEETINGS SCHEDULED
By Woman's Club. The Woman's Club has planned a number of meetings either of the whole membership or of interest departments in the coming weeks. The Club will be host to Dr. Robert Dicke, Einstein Professor of Science at Princeton University, on Thursday, November 18 at 8.

The garden department will meet Friday at 10 in the home of Mrs. David R. Wyle, 13 Pine Knoll Drive, Lawrenceville, to hear Mrs. Nathaniel Boonin of The Greenery, Rocky Hill, talk on "So Your Plant is Ailing" and Mrs. William Vanden Heuvel lecture on Wreath Making and Christmas Designs. Members will sign up for the December 3 trip to the Pink Sleigh in northern New Jersey and lunch at the Weathercock Inn.

The commmunity service department will meet Monday at 10 at the home of Mrs. Richard Williams, 14 Wycombe Way, Princeton Junction, to hear a guest speaker from the Children's Home Society, Skillman.

Tax Reform Urged.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Revaluation of homes in Princeton Borough and Township should not be undertaken at this time.

It should be postponed until a statewide tax reform which will guarantee New Jersey homeowners lasting relief from excessive and catastrophic tax increases on their property is enacted in Trenton.

The refund that is to be made to homeowners on their tax bill for 1976 unpleasantly reminds the tax payer that the accomplishments of the New Jersey Senate and Assembly in their latest session were just about seven per cent effective in respect to tax reform. Seven per cent relief from a tax bill that was initially exorbitant and confiscatory is not going to cause loud rejoicing in Township and Borough.

If homes are revalued at this time for purposes of taxation, the pitiful refund on our taxes for 1976 will not only be wiped out completely in 1977 and beyond but will stand as a reminder to homeowners that they are being treated with condescension and contempt by their elected officials. Is it that our public officials believe in our intelligence at election time and afterwards treat us as if we were morons?

Isn't it about time for New Jersey homeowners to take matters into their own hands and defeat at the polls all those who refuse to enact genuine tax reform in our state and in our communities?

Bad News and Good News.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

This past Saturday afternoon, a young lady who apparently has no regard for her reputation, her parents' feelings or other people's property, was observed shoplifting in our store, Stone's Linen Shop. This was the BAD NEWS.

The GOOD NEWS was that a customer saw her, informed me and offered to look for her. I called the police and within minutes they were looking for her too. My customer, who shall remain nameless but who is known to me, saw her on Witherspoon Street and stopped the police car. The young lady was apprehended and was, belatedly, adequately contrite.

The purpose of all this is to say that there are still people with a sense of value and honesty. My wife and I would like to publicly thank our customer and Patrolmen Alston of the Princeton Borough Police Department.

Safety Measures Urged.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am certain that the many friends of William J. "Bill" Schannel 2nd, who died of injuries after being hit by a car on Alexander Road last Wednesday, November 3, urge the responsible authorities to correct the dangerous traffic conditions that exist on that street in the vicinity of the old Princeton Inn on University Place down to Faculty Road.

who helped me win a sometimes frustrating, but always exciting, uphill fight.

I would be very troubled if anyone were to read into my entry into the campaign for a seat on Borough Council anything more than a sincere desire to serve the community, much in the fashion of my late husband, Murray, to whom all Princetonians were equal.

I said during the campaign that I represent no special interests, that I am beholden to no one and that I intend to bring an open mind and the best thinking I can muster to my work on Council.

I will do no less in the months ahead and will try as best I know how to reflect the concerns of so many of the wonderful people it was my pleasure to meet on my rounds.

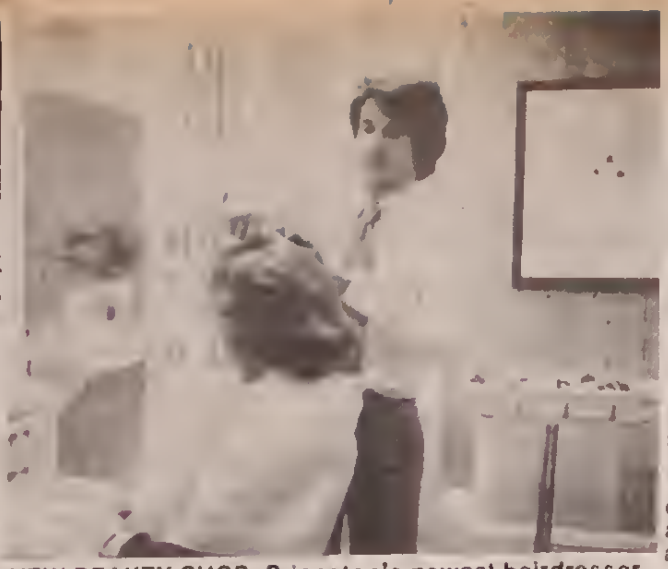
IT'S NEW To Us



NEW BEAUTY SHOP. Princeton's newest hairdresser, Leon Sikora, styles a customer's hair at Leon's Studio on Witherspoon Street.

LEON'S STUDIO OPENS

On Witherspoon Street. Probably more than any other group, hairdressers wish to own their own business someday. Now after nine years of commuting to New York, Leon Sikora has achieved this goal with the opening of his beauty shop at 70 Witherspoon Street.

While this is certainly more convenient for him, it is also so for his local customers who have followed him to the city while he worked for Charles of the Ritz, Glenby International and Saks Fifth Avenue.

Being associated with these top shops has also given Mr. Sikora an exposure to the newest products and techniques, which are not always easily available outside of the city.

Leon's Studio offers all major hair care, such as cuts, styling, sets, color shading and painting. Sample prices are $7.50 for a wash and set, $10 for a haircut, or $15 for a restyling.

Most beauty shops devote a portion of the space to cosmetics, small gifts or clothing boutiques. Leon's Studio, however, has altered this stereotype by including Mrs. Sikora's marvelous collection of miniatures and dollhouses.

Like so many home industries, this one started when Jane Sikora began to work with her own child on a dollhouse, and before long she and her mother were handcrafting small furniture for major stores such as Neiman Marcus. However, handcrafted items take time to make, and finding it difficult to satisfy the demand for their pieces, they left the wholesale market.

This was Princeton's good fortune though as the miniatures are now part of Leon's Studio. Sofas and chairs in either a Lawson or colonial wing-back style are a major part of this line, and the extra touches of perfectly centered patterns and small throw pillows make them quite unique, $5 to $15.

Mrs. Sikora also makes delicate baskets of bread dough flowers and greens, fills other baskets with little brown and white eggs, needlepoints original rugs (dollhouse size, of course,) and also needlepoints extra throw pillows, priced from $2.

Tilt-Top Tables. The collection includes pieces by other craftspeople, as well as some commercial lines; and while the selection is geared towards the collector, the price range is such that many pieces are fine for children, too. For instance, rocking chairs range from $10 to $25 and dining room tables from $6 to $25 for a mahogany one with exquisite leg turnings and two removable leaves.

One of our favorite pieces here was the tilt-top table which Jackie Balog handpaints with a floral motif, $15 and several colors are available. We also liked the black baker's racks which are an incredibly good buy at $2.20; a lucite cocktail table, $3; canopy beds from $14; and a good-sized hand-woven rug, $6.

Houses are here also, and these start with narrow six-room display boxes shaped like houses. These are small, but require the same attention to decorating detail with papers, fabrics and accessories as a large house does, $15.

We also saw square one-room houses and a spacious six-room townhouse with a front that can be closed, $50 and $125 respectively. Then, Mrs. Sikora has books on how to do-it-yourself, if you are so inclined.

Certainly this is a collection that should fascinate you whether or not you are waiting a few moments for your hair appointment. Located at 70 Witherspoon Street (across from the Public Library), Leon's Studio is open by appointment, call 921-0112.

HANDMADE FURNITURE

From The Lennox Shop. Today, with the great interest in our country's past, there is no question as to the popularity of early American furniture and accessories. However, this was not always so, especially in 1928 when Richard Lennox opened his one - room country store on Long Island.

In fact, he originally started his store to have a place to merchandise his own products – mainly the primitive pine furniture he felt "reflected the independence and directness of spirit so prevalent among the American people" of the colonial period.

Since then The Lennox Shop has grown room by room over the years, including the addition of a Lambertville branch in 1953, but the original atmosphere remains. By combining the country store of his youth with the hospitality of an Early American home, Mr. Lennox has created a perfect setting for his furniture designs.

All total, Richard Lennox has designed approximately 200 pieces of furniture, all of which are hand made in his workshop. Each piece is distressed and colored to the mellow, antique golden - brown tone of old pine and then the finish is hand rubbed to a satin smooth, soft patina.

His collection includes furniture for any use. There is a fireside box that is a reproduction of an old log box and holds enough wood for several evenings by the fire, $42.50, as well as a kitchen wall desk with space for the telephone, cookbooks, spices and memo pads, $69.95.

There are larger pieces, too, such as a dry sink, $279.50; a Pennsylvania pie cupboard with pierced tin panels in the upper doors, $595; a trestle dining table, $295; or a handsome large Mystic Seaport secretary with lots of storage spaece, $749.50.

In addition to the Lennox's own pine furniture, there is also a group of formal cherry and mahogany pieces from other manufacturers. For instance, we saw Queen Anne side chairs, a lighted china cabinet, a Hepplewhite Pembroke table, and some upholstered pieces to mention just a few, $134 to $850.

Then in Lambertville there is a meeting - house chair shed with a wide choice of early American styles. You can choose a Pilgrim ladderback one, a Gov. Carver arm chair, a kitchen stool, a child's Boston rocker, Deacon's benches and lots more, $38.50 to $159, and there is a 10 percent discount if you buy at least four chairs.

Accessories, Too. Throughout the store, which has several rooms, each setting is completed with many accessories such as Mr. Lennox's handcrafted tin sconces and lighting fixtures. The smallest one of these is an electric window - sill candle light. It is sweetly made with a fluted base and just right for the approaching Christmas season, $5.50 each.

Happily the warm tones of pewter have become important once again, and The Lennox Shop carries several lines. By Woodbury, we liked a two - handled porringer

Engagements and Weddings

ENGAGEMENTS

Pietras-Schwab. Kathleen S. Pietras, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pietras of 35 Haveson Avenue, Lawrenceville, to Richard A. Schwab Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schwab of Rolla, Mo. A December 3 wedding is planned.

The future bride, an alumna of Notre Dame High School, is a cum laude graduate of Rider College and John Robert Powers School of Modeling. She is employed as the office supervisor for Connecticut General Life Insurance Company in Richmond, Va., where her fiance, a graduate of Rolla High School and Southwest Missouri State University, is employed as an estate planning analyst. Mr. Schwab is also a former officer in the U.S. Army.

Strohaber-Breetveld. Rita E. Strohaber of Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Strohaber of Tesla, W.Va., to Mark F. Breetveld of 17 Palmer Road, Kendall Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Breetveld of New Delhi, India. A May wedding is planned.

Miss Strohaber is a graduate of Montgomery High School. Her fiance, a graduate of South Brunswick High School, is a mechanic.

WEDDINGS

Sanders-Butler. Jean M. Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Butler of Alta Vista Drive, to Dr. Harold A. Sanders of Washington, D.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Sanders of Brooklyn, N.Y.; September 19 in the garden of the bride's parents, the Rev. Blan C. Aldridge of Nassau Presbyterian Church and Rabbi Richard Shackett of Brooklyn officiating.

The bride, a graduate of Duke University School of Nursing, is an assistant hospital administrator at the Psychiatric Institute of Washington, D.C. Dr. Sanders graduated from Harper College and Upstate New York Medical School. He completed his residency in internal medicine at the Washington Hospital Center and practices with the Group Health Association of Washington, D.C.

Lowe-Voogd. Jane L. Voogd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Voogd of Holland, Mich., to Glenn G. Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lowe of Skillman; October 1 in Third Reformed Church of Holland. Following a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple will live in Grand Rapids.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lowe are graduates of Hope College. Mr. Lowe is employed at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids as financial aid director.

Mylowe-Morrison. Denise D. Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Morrison Jr. of 135 East Delaware Avenue, Pennington, to Richard A. Mylowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Mylowe of 105 Lake Drive, Lawrenceville; November 6 in St. Matthew's Church, Pennington, the Rev. John C. Belmont Jr. officiating, assisted by the Rev. William B. Gentleman of Louisville, Ky., uncle of the bride.

Mrs. Mylowe graduated from Hopewell Valley Central High School and American International College in Massachusetts. She is attending graduate school at Trenton State College. Mr. Mylowe, a graduate of Lawrence High School and New England College in New Hampshire, is manager of Photo Haven in Lawrenceville.

After a wedding trip to Acapulco, they will live in Lawrenceville.

Lawrence-Chmiel. Loretta A. Chmiel, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Closson of Lawrenceville, to Richard A. Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lawrence of Belle Mead; November 6 in St. Ann's Church, Lawrenceville, the Rev. Charles Cicerale officiating.

Both are employed by E. R. Squibb & Sons. The bride is a graduate of Upsala College, the groom of Syracuse University. They will live in Ewing after a honeymoon trip in Florida.

Lubas-Firnstahl. Jean E. Firnstahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Firnstahl of Clinton, to Gary R. Lubas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Lubas of Belle Mead; November 6 in the Chapel of the Aquinas Institute, the Rev. Charles B. Weiser officiating.

Both are graduates of Princeton High School. Mrs. Lubas received a diploma as a registered nurse from the Orange Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Lubas attended Tusculum College in Greenville, Tenn., and Somerset Community College. He is employed by New Brunswick Scientific Company as a production planner reproduced from one at the Henry Ford Museum, $24, and by Gorham we chose a handsome octagonal bowl, $60. The selection also includes the more standard plates, goblets, serving dishes and creams and sugars.

They will live in Cranbury after a honeymoon trip to Hawaii.

China is here too, and while all the patterns are suitable to an Early American setting, there is a considerable price range starting with solid white Ironstone and including a lovely Spode pattern with a clipper ship in the center of each piece. Particularly interesting is Wedgwood's ironstone china decorated with colored Currier & Ives winter scenes, $150 for a 42-piece service for eight.

Among the accessories are also many miscellaneous items which contribute to The Lennox Shop's country atmosphere. For instance we saw a rolling pin with 12 different cookie imprints, a tin weather vane with a dove on the top, a decorative brass rooster meant to be hung against a wall, and a handsome Admiral's splint box reproduced from an 1812 one, $9.50 to $32.50.

Then there are lots of small goodies typical of those once found in a country store – wooden display holders for teacups and saucers, mini notepads covered with Florentine prints, bunches of mixed dried flowers, sleigh bells on a leather strap, and 19th century postcards for the children to paint, 79 cents to $6.95.

Located just north of Lambertville, The Lennox Shop is open Monday through Saturday from 9 until 5:30, Sundays from 10:30 until 5:30 and Friday evenings from 7 uintil 9. The store is on Route 179 (the old Route 202) and from Princeton the easiest route is by going north on Route 31 to Ringoes and turning left onto Route 179 there.

PEOPLE In The News

Archibald Crossley, one of the pioneers of the marketing research field, was honored by the firm he founded when Crossley Surveys of New York City celebrated its 50th anniversary with a special reception and luncheon. In recognition of his contribution to the industry, the firm presented a dissertation grant in his name to the Columbia University Graduate School of Business.

Mr. Crossley, almost 80 and now retired, lives at 21 Battle Road. He is widely noted for having been the first to measure audiences with his Crossley Radio Ratings, an innovation that, in the 1920's mapped the groundwork for a permanent and often controversial fixture of radio and TV.

Mr. Crossley's career began in 1918 when he sought a job as a copywriter at an ad agency but was asked to start a research department instead. Very few were in existence at the time, and the whole concept of finding out what the consumer wanted was a virtual blank. Mr. Crossley took the U.S. census as his departure point and decided to parallel it as much as possible to assure a true cross section.

Since no formal design existed, he had to create surveys himself and it evolved from there. Commercial broadcasting was inaugurated in 1921, and in 1927, a year after the start of his company, an ad agency asked him to check on the reliability of a network in airing a certain program. Nationwide Crossley interviewers discovered that many of the stations were taking the money for the show but were making extra dollars by filling the airwaves with local advertisers instead.

The agency, armed with these facts, received a rebate, and a few years later came back to ask for a repeat of the test. Mr. Crossley suggested instead that the agency find out how many people were listening. This was a revolutionary suggestion, and Mr. Crossley's basic premise was that people who could afford radio sets almost certainly had telephones, and interviews could be done by phone. When he came through with an actual measurement of the numbers of listeners for each program each half hour of the day, it enabled agencies to pit those facts against the costs of the program.

This led eventually to the Cooperative Analysis of Broadcasting, which was dubbed the Crossley Ratings, or the Crossley, and it gave ratings in percentage point form. So powerful did the ratings become that talent was bought and sold as so much per point and shows were cancelled when their ratings dropped. Mr. Crossley made speeches and wrote articles about its unfair aspects.

In 1936, Mr. Crossley, George Gallup and Elmer Roper started publishing national presidentiat polls. Mr. Crossley found there were closer indicators than primaries because most people don't vote in primaries. The Hearst organization asked to print the poll in its newspapers, and all went well until 1948, the year of the Truman - Dewey election. Analyzing the results at home, Mr. Crossley became aware that if Dewey failed to get a certain percentage in New York state he would lose, and thus he realized, before the final results around the country were in, that Truman would be the winner.

Henry Chauncey, the first president of Educational Testing Service, one of the nine educators to receive the College Entrance Examination Board's Medal for Distinguished Service to Education in New York CIty.

The medal was presented during the Board's National Forum as a special part of its 75th anniversary program to recognize those who have provided national leadership and service in the expansion and equalization of educational opportunity--areas of special concern to the Board since its founding in 1900.

During the presentation, Dr. Chauncey was cited for his dedication to "the expansion of educational opportunity through standardized measures of achievement, and to the fair, efficient, and academically sound transition of learners of all ages through the educational system."

Brodie C. Johnson, son of Dr. Frank W. Johnson of 639 Village Road West and Mrs. Audrey Johnson of Princeton, and Jeffrey W. von der Schulenburg, son of Mrs. Suzanna von der Schulenburg of 144 Library Place and the late Frederich W. von der Schulenburg, are freshmen at Amherst College.

Mr. Johson is a graudate of West Windsor-Plainsboror High School where he was a National Merit Scholar, earned the High Honor Award and was student council president. Mr. von der Schulenburg graduated from St. Paul's School in Concord, N.H., where he was president of the French Club and was a member of the varsity crew and varsity soccer teams.

William M. Mendez Jr., son of William and Wanda Mendez of 169 Snowden Lane, will be awarded a Ph.D. in biochemistry at the December graduation ceremony of the University of Chicago. He is a graduate of Valley Road School, Princeton High School and Colgate University, class of 1972, from which he received the T.E. Lawrence Chemistry Fellowship. He has accepted a grant to continue his studies at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.

Rip Pellaton, son of Mrs. Jacqueline Pellaton of 249 Mt. Lucas Road, has been named features editor of Oak Leaves, the student yearbook at Drew University in Madison. A graduate of Princeton High School, he is a senior majoring in theatre arts and is active in student government.

David Lemonick, a senior at the University of New Hampshire's College of Life Sciences and Agriculture, has received his second $1,000 grant from St. Regis Paper Company to complete his studies. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Lemonick of Joseph Henry House.

Edward Stabler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Stabler of 944 Stuart Road and a student at Princeton Day School, has been cited for outstanding performance in writing by the National Council of Teachers of English. He was named a finalist in a 1976 NCTE Achievement contest which began in January.

Alex Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Newton of 90 Dempsey Avenue, was named one of the players of the week for his performance as defensive end on the Kenyon football team. He is a 1976 graduate of the Lawrenceville School.

Mrs. Bernard Alexander of 272 Fieldsboro Drive, Lawrence Township, will receive the Louis Marshall Memorial Medal from the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York City on Tuesday. She was cited "for exemplifying Louis Marshall's tradition of consecrated service to Judaism, to the American Jewish Community and to all men." Mrs. Alexander is a member of the Seminary's Board of Overseers and the National Women's Patrons Society, after having been chairman of the Society for eight years.

ART
In Princeton

REBIRTH FOR DRAWINGS

In Eye for Art Exhibit. In the 19th and early 20th century, the drawing was employed as a suitable medium for finished art work. Of late, the tendency has been for artists to use drawing as a means of quick notation or as preparation for work in another medium. Painting and printmaking, particularly lithography, seem to have replaced the drawing as a means for creating a finished visual statement and the drawing has all but disappeared from the gallery scene.

The exhibit of drawings by Tom Kindron at The Eye For Art is a fine example of what has been missing or at least hidden from view. A collection of nature studies, executed in a classical manner include massive amounts of detail and, at first glance, are reminiscent of early botanicals and nature illustrations. A second look reveals that the formal elements have been presented with exceptional feeling for pattern, color and visual contrasts and rendered for the viewer with a combination of technical virtuosity and wholesome wit.

THAT'S SHOW BUSINESS! Highlights from three decades of American theatre can be seen through the eyes of New York Daily News cartoonist Sam Norkin now on display at the Loft Gallery. This is Lee J. Cobb as "King Lear."

The collection includes figurative works which employ expressive linear techniques that embody wit or pathos, depending upon the subject. Within a grouping of well-executed figurative works a fat lady, rendered with sparse line, steals the show.

Kindron's mastery of his medium is enhanced by a creative application of his materials. He employs a variety of materials for his works, creating a sense of visual richness through the interaction of diverse drawing media and a variety of surface materials.

At The Loft Gallery. Shades of the New York theater come to Princeton through the drawings and caricatures of Sam Norkin. Zero Mostel, Lee J. Cobb, Woody Allen, Cronyn and Tandy and Leonard Bernstein are among the notables that are amusingly and skilfully presented in this collection.

Norkin drawings have appeared in the New York Daily News for three decades and include most of the major events of recent theater history. Line, tone and occasional color areas are combined with the cartoonist's wit to present likenesses that include a statement about each subject that goes beyond the facade.

WHY IT'S WOODY ALLEN! He's on view as drawn by Sam Norkin in "Play It Again, Sam," part of the cartoon exhibit at the Loft Gallery.

At Gallery of Fine Art. An eclectic assemblage entitled "Collector's Choice" includes classics from several cultures and times. The earliest works on display are a pair of Indian miniatures from the early 18th century.

Time is spanned to include an American impressionist, German expressionists, cubists and a smattering of work by contemporary artists. The structural impact of a Leger lithograph plays against the dynamic calligraphy of a Baskin ink drawing.

Delicate, colored etchings and a drawing by Pascin viewed against the social satire of a George Grosz study and the drama of a Kollwitz drawing span the many possibilities of two dimensional art as a medium of profound expression. The work displayed offers a technical range which is as diverse as that of the content.

At Gallery 100. Etchings by Joanne Isaac focus on plant life. A literal rendering of the subject relying heavily on line is developed with varying degrees of success.

Isaac is at her best where she utilizes the total space employing pattern in line-tone combinations. An autumn study and a few prints involving shaped plates resolve the visual elements well, exhibiting sensitive possibilities.

At McCarter Theatre. Watercolor painting, often regarded by artists as the most difficult medium, is frequently chosen by Sunday painters as their means of expression. As a result, the proliferation of visual cliche's whose execution is as weak as their conception has given water color painting a bad name.

The ninth annual Juried Member Watercolor Exhibition of the Princeton Art Association is a conservative vote in favor of the medium. Although the display seems to lean heavily in the direction of the traditional use of watercolor, with few really creative works, the execution is sufficiently competent to justify the collection.

The hallmarks of the medium, translucent, clear color and the fluid application of the paint can be found in the majority of the works on display. Most are pleasing, some use their subjects in a creative manner, and a few display the characteristics that have done so much to harm the reputation of the medium, muddy overworked color used to relate pedestrian themes.

Graffiti on View

Western Electric's Corporate Education Center on Carter Road is currently showing an exhibition of graffiti art. Each artist represented began his work on the streets and subways of New York.

Through the efforts of the Nation of Graffiti Artists, New York City's hundreds of graffiti artists have had the opportunity to transfer their artistic skills from the subway trains onto canvas and to participate in art exhibits, mural painting and other projects. One of the significant features of graffiti art is the incorporation of the artist's name into most of his paintings. Although individual styles have evolved among the artists represented, much of the original graffiti influence remains.

The show is open to the public from 9 to 4 Mondays through Fridays and on Sunday from 2 to 5. This exhibit will continue through next Monday.

There are several new names included in the list of artists which would seem to account for the change in the character of the show. The PAA has long sought a wider geographic base and has apparently succeeded.

At the University Art Museum. Landscape paintings of the Wu School are featured in the corner gallery of the Oriental Collection. Executed during the Ming Dynasty, the paintings were the work of cultivated gentlemen.

As much an exercise in scholarship, the paintings were worked in many previous styles employing a large number of visual and literary references to the past.

The resulting landscapes reveal a stylistic amalgam of many of the diverse elements of Oriental painting. Fluid wash lines are often complemented by precise detail. The subtle tonal effects of wash are included, as are the more intricate and carefully wrought elements of different periods.

Thomas M. Woodward III, of 211 Hun Road was cast as a ghost in a Bowdoin College production of Jean Giradoux's "The Enchanted."

Opening night was last Saturday for the three-act full length opera written during the past two years by a former Princetonian, Andrew Imbrie, while on leave from the music department at the University of California at Berkeley and staying first in Hopewell and then on Westcott Road. The opera, "Angle of Repose," was based on a novel by Wallace Stegner and has a libretto by Oakley Hall. It was commissioned by the San Francisco Opera where it will play through out the month.

John A. Imbrie, the composer's son who graduated from Lawrenceville in June and is a freshman this year at Princeton University, expects to see the final performance during his Thanksgiving vacation.

Stefi Baum was named to the first team of the Northeastern Field Hockey Conference on Sunday after a stand - out performance in preliminary Conference tournaments. A 1976 graduate of Princeton High School, Baum is a freshman at Harvard - Radcliffe majoring in math and chemistry. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Baum of 386 Riverside Drive.

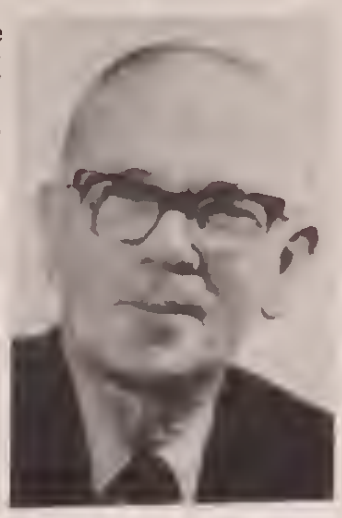
English Shop, Observing 25th Anniversary, Has Expanded 4 Times Since Founding in '51

Eric Mihan, owner of the English Shop, is a civic-minded man. On Thursday when his store celebrates its 25th anniversary, Mr. Mihan plans to donate half of the day's business to the United Fund as his way of saying "thank you" to the Princeton community.

This will be the second time that Mr. Mihan has given part of the day's gross to the Fund; the first was a few years ago in conjunction with his nearby competitor and early employer, Langrock's. But Mr. Mihan is quick to say that the best day of his life was the April day in 1942 when he walked up to Nassau Street from the Dinky station and decided to settle in Princeton with his wife and first son.

He worked first for "Papa" Renwick in the restaurant by that name which no longer exists and then went next door to Langrock's, where he learned the art of tailoring. From 1949-1951 Mr. Mihan had the Student Tailor Shop, one of the agencies of the Bureau of Student Aid at the University, in the basement of Murray-Dodge Hall. "We were a good agency," he recalls. "We employed the most people and did the most business."

On November 11, 1951, he opened his first store at 33 Palmer Square and called it The English Shop because most of the merchandise was imported from England or Scotland. This shop was in the front hall of Mrs. Jac Weller's real estate business and totalled perhaps 350 square feet.



Eric Mihan

Three Locations. By March of 1955 the shop moved to 5 Palmer Square, where Brophy's now is, in quarters previously occupied by Mrs. Thorn Lord's The Little Clothes Line for girls' clothing. Two and a half years later, in September of 1957,

BUSINESS In Princeton

Mr. Mihan moved the shop to its present location at 32 Nassau Street and started a ladies' wear section in the basement. In April of 1964, the most recent expansion took place, when ladies' wear moved into the next building.

"If we are successful," he says, reflecting on 25 years of uninterrupted growth," one measure of our success is that in 1951 I took out a loan of $5,000 from Arthur Everett at the First National Bank to start the business, and I now owe the bank $500,000." Mr. Mihan owns the two buildings in which his business occupies the ground floor, and last December bought the building in which Marsh's drugstore is located. He thereby became landlord of No. 30 to No. 40 Nassau Street, along with some adjacent structures and parking space in the rear.

His primary market has been the upper middle class within a 25-mile radius. "I have never felt we should have snob appeal," he says, "but that we should give Princeton customers a quality dress or suit, conservative in design, and above all with good service." Mr. Mihan is involved in all aspects of the business, often coming back at night to unpack new shipments.

Another measure of success in retailing is the amount of business per square foot. Mr. Mihan says that shopping centers aim for $100 a square foot; $120 is considered fine. "We wouldn't settle for less than $220," he says, adding that this puts the shop in the top three perceot of the country.

Optimistic on the Future. Mr. Mihan is also an optimistic man. "Taking a conservative approach, the next 25 years will be even better," he claims. His two sons, Eric and Herbert, are in the business with him and are officers of the corporation and a grandson, Herbert Jr., now a fifth grader at PDS, might be president one day.

"We are by luck in a very good area for doing business," he maintains. "It is not a depressed, industrial area, there is less shoplifting and fewer bad accounts, and there are a lot of nice people in this town.

"I don't see Princeton going down the drain, as New Brunswick and Trenton seem to be, because the University is here. Now, if the merchants and landlords – and I am one of both – would do things like plant flowers all the way down the street, and not just me..." He breaks the thought in mid-sentence, a civic-minded man.

NAMED TO STAFF

At RCA Laboratories. Vincent J. Boccanfuso Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Boccanfuso of 182 Linden Lane, has been named a member of the technical staff of RCA Laboratories. An RCA employee since 1970, Mr. Boccanfuso had been a systems analyst prior to his promotion.

He received a B.A. degree in business administration in 1970 from Rutgers University and an M.B.A. degree this year from Rider College. Mr. Boccanfuso, and his wife, the former Rita M. DallePezze of Princeton, and their daughter live in Mercerville.

H. Kempton Hastings

NAMED PRESIDENT

of Johnson Atelier. H. Kempton Hastings of 13 Newlin Road has been named president of the Johnson Atelier Technical Institute of Sculpture on Alexander Road. The Atelier is a not-for-profit foundation and school which provides services for sculptors by way of an apprentice program in the technical processes of the sculptural medium.

Mr. Hastings attended Montclair Academy, Lawrenceville School and the University of North Carolina, with additional study in fine arts at the Art Students League with Philip Orlando. His current foundation work also includes the Johnson Foundation for Figurative Sculpture as vice-president and as treasurer of Harbor Branch Foundation, Inc., a not-for-profit corporation engaged in marine pollution studies, ocean science and engineering research and development.

He fills the position at the Johnson Atelier formerly held by J. Seward Johnson, Jr., who has been named chairman of the board.

JOINS REALTY NETWORK

With Electronic Listing. Peyton Real Estate has become the latest member of ERA, a growing nation-wide network of residential realtors offering an electronic photo listing service to their clients, according to Tod Peyton of the realty firm at 246 Nassau Street.

ERA stands for Electronic Realty Associates, the parent organization located in Shawnee Mission, Kan., which orginated and developed the new listing concept. As a member of the ERA network, Peyton Real Estate is now linked to ERA plus ERA members across the country by direct wire. Special electronic equipment in the office of each member can transmit a photo and pertinent pertinent information of any listing to any other ERA member in the country.

News Of The CHURCHES

INSTALLED AS MINISTER

Of Unitarian Church. The Rev. Dr. Edward A. Frost was installed Sunday as Minister of the Unitarian Church. The service was followed by a reception in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Frost in the Robinson Lounge of the church.

Participants in the service included Dr. Harold Dean of the First Unitarian Society of Lincroft, a former associate of the Princeton church, who gave the invocation; the Rev. Dr. Peter Denny, of the Unitarian Church of Summit, who delivered the prayer and the Rev. David Pohl, Director of Ministerial Settlement of the Unitarian Universalist Association in Boston, who gave the charge to the congregation. The president of the church, Professor Enoch Durbin, performed the act of installation, and the charge to the minister was made by Dr. Peter Putnam, author and historian. The principal address was given by the Rev. Kenneth MacLean, president of the Unitarian Universalist Minister's Association.

Dr. Albert Rees, Provost of Princeton University, extended Dr. Frost a welcome to the academic community, Rabbi Melvin Jay Glatt of the Princeton Jewish Center gave the welcome to the Princeton Community and the welcome to the larger community was extended by State Senator Ann Martindell. The musical program was under the direction of Margaret Lambert.

Among the guests were members of the New Jersey Area Council of the Unitarian Universalist Church, ministers of churches and societies in Long Island and New Jersey, public officials and legislators including the mayors of Princeton and nearby communities.

Dr. Frost is an American by birth but spent his early years in England. He took his master's degree at Boston University and his doctorate at Meadville, University of Chicago in 1974. He is a Fellow of the American Association of Pastoral Counselors and a member of the American Association of Marriage and Family Counselors. He worked as a part time therapist at the Concord State Prison in Massachusetts when he was minister of the Waltham, Mass., First Parish, from which he was called to the Princeton church in June.

MUSIC WORKSHOP SET

By Lutherans. The Mid-Jersey Fellowship of the Lutheran Society for Worship, Music and the Arts will sponsor a New Music Workshop Saturday, November 20, from 9:30 to 4 at Princeton Seminary. The workshops will be participatory and will focus on worship and music committees, children's choirs and instruments and the new all-Lutheran Hymnal.

There will also be displays of the visual arts, vestments, Christian paintings and crafts, publications and music. Registration is $2 and will take place in the campus center. Those attending may bring their lunch or buy it at the cafeteria.

The opening address will be given by A. James Laughlin, vice president of the national L.S.W.M.A. Arlo Duba, director of the chapel and of admissions at the Seminary, will lead the session on worship and music committees. Joan Forde, instructor of voice at Westminster Choir College and choir director at Lutheran Church of the Messiah, will lead the workshop on children's choirs and instruments.

The feature workshop, scheduled for both morning and afternoon sessions, will be on the new all-Lutheran Hymnal. It will be led by Bob Rimbo, project assistant at the inter-Lutheran Commission on Worship in New York City and minister of music at Grace Lutheran Church in Teaneck. The day will close the worship using the Inter-Lutheran Commission's Eucharist No. 2.

For further information, call Carolyn Gishlick, 448-5148, or Ruth Carlough, 924-1051.

SEMINARIANS PETITION

For Korean Civil Rights. Reacting to the arrest and imprisonment of the 18 South Korean religious leaders who participated in the March 1, 1976, Myong Dong Prayer Meeting, the Social Action Committee of Princeton Theological Seminary is sponsoring throughout 25 American seminaries a nationwide lobby for the "immediate release of those ministers and priests who were arrested," and for the "restoration of human rights and social justice in South Korea."

Each of the 25 seminaries is responsible for conducting public forums on the current Korean situation and for directing letter-writing campaigns that urge Congress and the National Churches to intercede on the behalf of the Myong Dong participants. The nationwide lobby is modeled after Princeton Theological Seminary's own campus lobbying activities.

Within three days, over 50 percent of the Seminary population endorsed a petition that called for the President of the United States to bring diplomatic and economic pressures against South Korea. Moreover, hundreds of Seminarian written letters carried a similar message to Congress.

The Social Action Committee, headquartered in room 405, Alexander Hall, is an independent organization of Seminarians interested in educating and motivating their fellow ministers in matters pertaining to the Social Gospel. Liberation in Korea, as well as in South Africa and the Soviet Union, is in their eyes just as much a theological pursuit as it is a political necessity.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Annual Christmas Bazaar and Luncheon sponsored by the Women's Guild of the Harlingen Reformed Church will be held Saturday from 10 to 3 at the church on Route 206 in Belle Mead. The bazaar booths will feature hand-made toys and gifts, a large variety of home baked goods, an assortment of Christmas ornaments, a plant center and a collection of white elephants.

Luncheon will be served from 11:30 - 1:30 and will include homemade soup, beef barbecue and other sandwiches, cup cakes and beverages. The kitchen will be open for light refreshments during the entire Bazaar.

There will be a Christmas Boutique of Handcrafts at Christ the King Lutheran Church in Kendall Park Saturday from 10 until 2. The church is located on Route 27.

Seymour Perlin, M.D. of the Kennedy Institute's Center for Bioethics at Georgetown University will discuss "Ethical Issues in Suicide Prevention" in a public lecture Tuesday at 8 in the campus center auditorium of Princeton Theological Seminary. The presentation is the seventh of a ten-lecture series sponsored by the Seminary.

The Annual Bazaar of the Hamilton Square Baptist Church, 3752 Nottingham Way, will take place Saturday, November 20 from 11 to 8. The theme is "A Pennsylvania Dutch Fall Festival."

The Nassau Presbyterian Church is sponsoring an Adult Christian Education series on Christianity and the Arts beginning Sunday at 11. Three guest speakers, Augusta Barrois, S. Turner Ritenour and Erik Routley, will give talks on the next six Sundays in the conference room of the Palmer Square sanctuary. This Sunday's presentation, with slides, will be given by Ms. Barrois on Michelangelo's Pieta and other works.

OBITUARIES

Joseph W. Miller Jr., 65, of 4151 Princeton Pike, died November 4 in Memorial Hospital, New York City. Born in East Orange, he lived in Princeton since 1912 and was president of Culligan Water Conditioning until his retirement.

Mr. Miller was a graduate of Lawrenceville School and of Princeton University, class of 1934. He was a veteran of the U.S. Army and was a Lieutenant Colonel in the U.S. Army Reserves Retired. He was with the New Jersey State Department of Geology and at the time of his death was supervising geologist.

He is survived by his wife, Janet Taylor Miller; a daughter, Mrs. Janet Pirone of Skillman; a son David H. of Hawaii; a brother Robert C. of Princeton.

A memorial service was held in Princeton University Chapel, Dean Earnest Gordon officiating. Arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial contributions may be made to the Scholarship Fund of Princeton University.

Salvatore Boccanfuso, 84, of 91 Birch Avenue, died November 8 in Princeton Medical Center. Born in Ischia, Italy, he lived in Princeton for 50 years. Mr. Boccanfuso retired in 1957 from RCA where he was employed in the building and grounds department.

He is survived by his wife, Maria Boccanfuso; three daughters, Mrs. Anna Intartaglia of Princeton, Mrs. Philomena Sousa of Trenton and Mrs. Jane Perone of Princeton; a son, Frank J. Boccanfuso of Princeton, eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated Thursday at 9:30 in St. Paul's Church, with burial in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Kimble Funeral Home Wednesday evening from 7 to 9.

Ferdinando G. Ossi, 92, of 48 East Curlis Avenue, Pennington died November 3 in St. Francis Medical Center after a lengthy illness.

Born in Italy, he lived in Long Island City, N.Y., for many years before moving to Pennington four years ago. Before his retirement he was a carpenter and a Gold Card member of Carpenter's Local 298 of New York.

Husband of the late Angela T. Ossi, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Joseph H. Devido, with whom he resided; two sons, Anthony Ossi of Bethesda, Md., and John Ossi of Astoria, N.Y.; 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mass of Christian Burial was held in St. James Church in Pennington with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Trenton.

Edward K. Martin, 69, of Route 27, Little Rocky Hill, died November 2 in the Greenbriar Nursing and Convalescent Home in Woodbury after a short illness. Mr. Martin retired in 1972 as a custodian in the South Brunswick school system after 10 years of service.

Born in Woodbury, he lived in this area for 30 years and was an Army veteran of World War II.

He was the husband of the late Elizabeth H. Martin, who died in 1969, and is survived by a daughter, Miss Eugenia M. Martin, at home; a sister, Miss Dorothy Martin of Camden, and three brothers, James Martin of Mount Royal, Thomas Martin of Woodstown and Leon Martin of Woodbury.

The service was held in the Mount Zion AME Church in Little Rocky Hill. Burial was in the Methodist Church Cemetery in Winslow.

Wallace Holland Sr., 80 of North Road, died November 2 in the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center. Born in Williamsburg, Md., Mr. Holland lived in this area for more than 50 years and was employed as a gardener for Matthew Fleming.

Mr. Holland was an Army veteran of World War I and past chaplain of Charles Robinson Post, American Legion. He was a member of Mount Pisgah AME Church, the Usher Board of the church and a past officer of the Trustee Aides of the Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Edna Holland; two sons, Wallace Holland Jr. of Ewing Township and Leon Holland of Rahway; two daughters, Mrs. Louise May of Princeton and Mrs. Henrietta Hill of Trenton; a sister, Mrs. Emma Wilmer of Denton, Md.; and eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The service was held in Mount Pisgah AME Church, the Rev. Leon Gipson, pastor officiating. Burial was in Franklin Memorial Park. Memorial contributions may be made to the building fund of the Mount Pisgah AME Church.

Rosemary C. Walsh, 280 Cold Soil Road, Lawrence Township, died November 4. Miss Walsh held bachelor of science and master's degrees in public health from Columbia University and was a consultant with the New Jersey State Health Department at the time of her death.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Norman J. Walton of Trenton; two brothers, James M. Walsh of Manasquan and Dr. Gerald P. Walsh of New Iberia, La.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated in the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Trenton, with burial in St. Mary's Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Cancer Society or the Home of Peace Foundation in care of St. Ann's Church, Lawrence Road.

AMBIENCE-PLUS
This charming 2 story colonial is located in one of Princeton Township's most desirable areas, surrounded by numerous estates and other superb residences. Its Pennsylvania stone-house front, many large trees, 1½ acres of land, all combine with a spacious floor plan that gives 3 bedrooms and 3 baths, a flagstone patio and a big wonderful Quaker Maid Kitchen with dining area and adjacent laundry space. A small dry cellar, and a large attic will both be appreciated by any owner.

All of this is easily heated by gas fired hot air and cooled by central air conditioning. 2 car garage has electric door opener.

We could go on, but please come and see for yourself. Real value at $155,000

. . . Henderson, Of Course

A BUILDER'S DREAM! One of the area's most respected craftsmen reluctantly offers his dream house for sale... a New England farm colonial with beautiful brick and aluminum exterior, all maintenance free. A large redwood deck and flagstone porch looks out on deep woods across the back. Inside finds six fireplaces - of magnificent stone in the family room, of old brick in the dining room, den and recreation room and two formal mantels in the large living room and master bedroom. Four lovely bedrooms, 3½ baths and a separate apartment over the garage! The exciting master bedroom includes a separate solarium and a beautifully appointed 10x10 bath/dressing room with mirrored walls. Many other extras! All included with loving care, exquisite use of materials and fastidious attention to detail. Please call and let us show you this property. Asking $175,000

PRINCETON'S CLASSIC CONTEMPORARY...Here is probably the finest single-floor home currently available in Princeton! It has every extra imaginable: Large foyer and central hall. Spectacular living room with fireplace and floor-to-ceiling windows. Master bedroom suite has an enormous sitting room with fireplace, dressing room, bath, of course, and a twenty-foot bedroom. Dining room has a beautiful view of the private patio and French doors opening outward. Two extra bedrooms (very large) and two more baths add to this beauty. Naturally, there's a maid's suite, too. And convenience? Right in town on its own beautifully landscaped half acre. Black top driveway. Two-car garage. It just goes on and on! Please call us for this appointment...soon!

POSITIVELY PERFECT FOR THE COMMUTER! One of West Windsor's best neighborhoods for young families...just enough land all professionally landscaped. A lovely two-story colonial with many amenities, freshly painted to provide the new owner with minimum maintenance. Four bedrooms, 2½ baths, centrally air conditioned, family room and lower game room! Asking $73,000

PLEASE DON'T SCOFF WHEN WE SAY THIS IS A PERFECT LISTING! It really has everything a young family could ever dream of owning...basically, of course, a four-bedroom, 2½ bath super colonial by Princeton's renowned Lew Kraft, a man who took pride in his building and stands behind his work! Panelled family room with fireplace, full basement, air conditioning, a light, airy kitchen that's fun to cook in! All on a treed lot within walking distance to the New York bus, on a cul-de-sac for utter safety and at the entrance to an area estate, yet with plenty of children nearby for playmates! If you need more proof, or are from Missouri, please call a Henderson agent to see this house before one of your friends sends you his new address! Asking: $85,000

ENJOY THE PEACEFUL AND QUIET WOODED SETTING OF THIS SPECTACULAR CUSTOM DESIGNED CONTEMPORARY PRESENTLY UNDER CONSTRUCTION BY A LEADING BUILDER ON THE NEWEST PRIVATE LANE IN PRINCETON TOWNSHIP.

Situated on a professionally landscaped acre with access and ownership in a private park area, it offers all one could wish for in the unusual. The flexible arrangement of rooms will make living in this house a joy! Living room with fireplace, dining room, family room with fireplace, kitchen with all conveniences, study or bedroom with bath, Master bedroom with bath, two more bedrooms and hall bath, fully air conditioned for total comfort; full basement and two car garage....call for plans $145,000

WANTED! A LARGE FUN-LOVING FAMILY TO FILL A SIX BEDROOM, THREE BATH SPACIOUS COLONIAL CAPE ON 1½ BEAUTIFUL WOODED ACRES. Custom built by one of the area's outstanding craftsmen for his own family. Featuring a recently remodeled eat-in kitchen with built in barbeque, living room with fireplace, family room with fireplace, recreation room and formal dining room. Of course, other amenities...a fire alarm system, 3-zone heating and a roomy 2-car garage. Superior schools and only 8 minutes from Nassau Street! All combine to make this house an outstanding buy $112,000

A SUPERB OFFERING ... WINFIELD DRIVE ... one of Hunt & Augustine's most impressive colonials ... on almost three acres of prime Princeton land..with all city utilities, and just a short jog to town! Perfect center hall with gracious living room and fireplace, dining room with chairrail, panelled family room with fireplace, jalousied sun room leading to an inviting deck in the yard, and a warm, spacious kitchen with breakfast area and utility room... all to complete the first floor! Two master suites with full baths, and three other bedrooms and a hall bath are upstairs. Of course, there is a large attic and basement, with a two-car garage and central air conditioning. More to be sure, but please call for an appointment to see this exceptional house. $180,000

Albert Einstein's First Home Here Purchased By Seminary for Conversion into Apartments

MAYBE YOU'LL LIVE HERE--EINSTEIN DID: Architects for the Seminary will form five apartments from the 20 rooms in this house, which stands on the Mercer-Library corner, its various architectural styles now mellowed into a harmonious whole.

Scabrous with peeling paint, its windows broken and blind, its shrubbery a tangle, the haunted old house on the corner of Library and Mercer will be transformed, like a Cinderella, into five apartments for five lucky tenants.

It's a house haunted by distinguished ghosts. It was the first American home of Albert Einstein, who lived in half of the house from 1933 to 1935, before he moved down the street to 112 Mercer. John F. Hageman, distinguished recorder of the Princeton community's history, lived here form 1855 until his death, leaving it to his son in 1880.

Most recently, it has been the property of Mary Louise Nicholson, who sold it late this summer to Princeton Theological Seminary. The Seminary owns all the other land around the house. The address is 2 Library Place, although the house fronts on Mercer.

Following plans drawn up by William Short, architect, of Short and Ford, 10 Nassau, the 20-room house will be divided into five apartments, some of them two or three story units. These apartments will be available to anyone, on a first-come, first-served basis in the open market. Rents have not yet been set, according to William Lawder, Seminary treasurer.

The Seminary feels that it must divide the house into apartments to justify the expense of modernizing the old building, Mr. Short points out. The roof is bad, windows and walls are in bad shape, and so on.

---

140 Years Old. "The house dates from the 1830s, and parts of it are Steadman," Mr. Short Reports. Charles Steadman built many houses in Princeton in the early years of the 19th century.

Other parts of the house represent what Mr. Short calls "the shingle style," with round bays. Other portions date from the 1880s and '90s.

"I wouldn't call it a very distinguished piece of architecture," he says, "but it is a nice piece of street-scape. Remodeling it not only preserves part of the housing stock, but adds five apartments."

"We're going to save the house, and do nothing to the outside that we don't absolutely have to," Mr. Short says. "We're removing a shed and a garage in back–that's all. We have to put in a fire-escape, but you won't be able to see it from either Mercer or Library."

Although five families will live in the house, its grounds won't be scarred by blacktop parking: the Seminary will provide the seven parking spaces required by the Planning Board, near Spear Library across the street. This solution is allowed under Borough regulations. The Seminary does plan to keep the driveway and turnaround for service vehicles.

The Inside Story. Inside....

Apartment Number One will be a one-story flat, using the main living-room and library, which will constitute living-dining-kitchen area. This apartment will have that circular bay window at one corner of the house. Two bedrooms and a bath will be part of this apartment also.

Apartment Number Two is a three-story apartment with three bedrooms and two baths. The ground floor will have living-dining and kitchen space. Above, will be two bedrooms--sizeable ones, around 15 x 20 feet–and a bath. On the third floor, in what used to be the maid's quarters, will be a third bedroom and its own bath.

Apartment Number Three is a duplex using the old kitchen wing, including a charming 8 x 8 shingle addition -- a study, perhaps? Up a flight of steps will be two bedrooms and a bath.

Apartment Number Four is a second-floor efficiency: a living area with dining bay window, bath and kitchen. Efficiency, but with a fireplace.

Apartment Number Five–the only one without a fireplace–is another duplex, this time with two bedrooms and bath.

"Some nice mantels on those four fireplaces," Mr. Short observes.

Other Plans. All bathrooms and kitchens will be new, by the way. The curving porch downstairs technically goes with Number One, but then Number Two has a terrace and Number Three has the lawn. Since the house will be "a multi-family dwelling," as zoners like to say, and not a condominium, presumably anybody can sit on the front porch.

From the outside, Mr. Short predicts, no one will guess that five apartments are inside. The house was so designed that no new outside doorways will have to be added. Inside, its rooms fell quite gracefully into the five apartments laid out by Mr. Short. Off the Mercer Street entrance is a hall which will be used by three apartments.

'Major Barbara' Found Generally Enjoyable, But Does Produce Several Negative Thoughts

CAST PRINCIPALS: Maria Tucci as Barbara and William Swetland as Andrew Undershaft appear in the George Bernard Shaw comedy currently on view at McCarter. (Cliff Moore Photo)

Bernard Shaw was born again in Princeton last week, brought to life in the McCarter Theatre Company's handsome production of his comedy "Major Barbara." It is good to have the funny, witty, quirky, teachy, preachy, socially conscientious old boy with us again. He will be around–the conflicting facets of his nature represented by an attractive group of actors–through the next two weekends.

Your reviewer feels so beholden to Producing Director Michael Kahn, the McCarter Associates, the Mobil Technical Center (Shaw would have loved that!) and all other contributors of talent, time, and money to this theatrical event, that we hate to say an unkind word about it.

But alas, when contributors show their love of good theater by contributing till it hurts, a critic is inspired to criticize with equal selflessness. So, hurting all the way, we offer a few negative thoughts about a generally enjoyable evening.

First, "Major Barbara," though it can be great fun, is not great comedic art, because what its characters do and say more often seems thrust upon them by the author than to spring from their own insides. Thus the play is held together not by inner tensions but by the force of the author's personality.

This is a remarkable force and it will hold, but one must at all times play SHAW as well as, and often instead of, his puppets.

Like a Musical. Not only in its larger-than-life but two-dimensional characters but in its parody of a story line, its fortuitous conversions, and its flashy leaps from one production number to another, "Major Barbara" resembles the book of a musical comedy--with editorials for songs.

Kenneth Frankel, happily remembered here for his direction of last season's "Awake and Sing," handles most elements of the play beautifully, but seems to take its editorializing too seriously.

This is most evident in his casting, or his direction, of Maria Tucci as Barbara. Much as we have liked Miss Tucci in other McCarter roles--as Juliet, as Miss Sloper in "The Heiress," as mute Kattrin in "Mother Courage"--she either has little gift for this kind of comedy or has not been allowed to reveal it as the munitions magnate's daughter who joins the Salvation Army and saves souls as relentlessly as her father forges military hardware. Actually, she lacks the musical comedy look one gets in the other actors and needs in what amounts to the romantic leading lady.

"Major Barbara" is larded (and we do mean larded) with simplistic social and economic preachments which, when given their full weight, are enough to sink one of Andrew Undershaft's flying battleships. When played throughout with Shavian irreverence, the play can shock us with bolts of deadly serious, contemporarily relevant wisdom. Even its longwinded preachiness can be forgiven from a fanciful, high spirited author and cast.

Some Things Are Amiss. But there is a literalness, an earnestness, about this production that makes one wonder if the director really understands Shaw and the relative values of his play. Miss Tucci's unrelieved sobriety is the first tipoff that something may be amiss. One's apprehensions are fed by the tongues of real flame that flicker up from an oil-drum handwarmer in the Salvation Army shelter yard, and confirmed by the astonishingly large cannon that clanks on stage for the munitions factory scene and elevates its snout menacingly.

We hoped this cannon was simply something one rents for "Major Barbara" productions, in knocked-down form, like a giant Erector Set, to be reassembled, but were told it was built for the occasion. These are not the props of romantic comedy, even one with portentous messages. (Otherwise, Marjorie Kellogg's settings are ingenious and attractive. Carrie F. Robbins' costumes are a delight.)

Shaw as a playwright had his serious moments, but essentially he was an ebullient, irrepressible comic. This element is missing not only in Tucci as Barbara but to a lesser degree in William Swetland as her father the armorer. True, he is good humored in his cynicism, but he lacks the mad glitter of a major Shaw character.

All mad glitter is Peter Vogt as Charley Lomax, the asinine young millionaire-to-be, engaged to Barbara's sister Sarah. He stands out in this production partly because most of Shaw's comic madness is allowed to collect in Charley instead of being spread among all the characters.

Always a funny line, his "drivel is drivel, don't you know" is explosively so in the context of this production. And we particularly liked Marian Clarke as Sarah, who has few lines but makes them count, particularly when commenting on the desirability of sitting on a loaded bomb.

Other Credits. Christopher Gaze employs some rather routine actor-tricks in establishing the character of Barbara's stuffy young fogey brother Stephen, but in the end he pays off. Robert Stattel as Barbara's Greek-professor fiance is intelligent, likeable, and lively. Patricia Falkenhain performs well but seems somewhat miscast as Lady Undershaft; not physically suggestive of the overbred aristocrat who married beneath her. (If you wonder, as we did, on seeing the opening scene, whether Shaw wrote Lady Undershaft before Oscar Wilde wrote Lady Bracknell in "The Importance of Being Earnest," the answer is no. Wilde was the influencer, Shaw the influenced.)

Of nine other actors in this large-cast play, observe Louis Beachner as poor Peter Shirley in the Salvation Army shelter scene. Not only in his few short speeches but in his eyes he argues for social justice more eloquently than all the other characters' orations. When not speechifying or cracking jokes, Shaw really did have a heart.

—William McCleery

PHOEBE BACK

To Alexander Hall. Remember her first album, "Phoebe Snow?" It was in the summer of '74 and the album contained the hit single, "Poetry Man" which became certified as a Gold Record.

Her second album was released this October and just by coincidence, she'll be touring around, scheduled to make a return appearance in Alexander Hall on Saturday, December 4. McCarter Theatre is the sponsor. She will perform twice--at 7:30 and 11 p.m.

Phoebe was last in Princeton in the spring of 1975, when she made her Princeton debut with Jackson Browne in Dillon Gym.

"Huck Finn" Coming

"Huckleberry Finn," the full - length film version of the Mark Twain classic, will be shown at the Princeton Playhouse Friday, November 26 at 3:15.

The film is being sponsored by the Family Movie Committee, a non - profit organization concerned over the virtual elimination of children's films in Princeton theatres. The committee points out that large attendance will help encourage the theatre manager, who would like to book more family and children's films, to do so.

Tickets can be purchased in advance at Hulit's Shoes, Hinkson's, the Toy Carousel, and The Clothes Line. Tickets are $1.

STILLS, NEXT WEEK

In Re-Scheduled Date. Stephen Stills, songwriter who was a founder of the Buffalo Springfield and the Crosby-Stills-Nash-Young combination, will appear in Dillon Gym for a solo appearance next Friday, November 19 at 8 p.m. This is a re-scheduling of his October date and all tickets for the earlier concert will be honored.

After leaving Crosby, Nash and Young, Stills formed his own band, Manassas. He's been traveling the concert circuit with Neil Young, and they've made a joint album, "Long May She Run."

Intime's 'Tempest' Wields Spell Of Enchantment in Current Run

INTIME LEADS: Daniel Seltzer (Prospero) and Barbara Scholtenfeld (Mirenda) in Shakespeare's "The Tempest." The Theatre Intime production is playing at Murray Theatre this week and November 18 through 20. (John Simpson Photo)

Theatre Intime's current production of Shakespeare's "The Tempest" moved a first-night audience that nearly filled Murray Theatre to a standing ovation at play's end. It was a deserved tribute, for there is eochantmeot here above and beyond that wielded by Prospero on his island kingdom.

In a program note Mitchell Ivers, the director, explains the absence of spectacle, such as machine-made storms, in favor of watching the actors in process, toward what he calls The Intimate Tempest. His apology is unnecessary. By capitalizing on the nearness of the actors and by letting all of Shakespeare's words be heard, he has given the old play a fresh and exciting feeling. There are various good things about it.

One feature of this "Tempest" that lifts it a step beyond reality is the frequent presence of ballet-like ensemble movement. Examples that come to mind are the storm at sea as acted by the ship's company; the tortured plight of the conspirators in the grip of Prospero's magic; the hymeneal dance for the young lovers; and indeed every appearance of the dynamic island spirits.

Another feature aiming toward the "insubstaotial pageant" of the play is found in the warm lighting, the representational set, the imaginative yet simple costumes, and the airy music.

A Powerful Presence. A third feature that tends to unify the production is the powerful presence of Professor Daniel Seltzer as Prospero. He influences, without dominating, the whole cast. His Prospero is intensely human, passionate in anger, parental and at times wryly amused as he watches the progress of his daughter's romance, touchingly simple in his parting with Ariel.

Among other individual performances I especially liked David Prather's Ariel. The impetuous grace of his movements, and the delight with which he carries out his master's commands even while longing for his promised freedom, are appealing. Barbara Schottenfeld as Miranda and Jim Millstein as Ferdinand are pleasantly natural, successfully avoiding the saccharine pitfalls in their rapid love affair.

In a break with tradition, the jester Trinculo and the monster Caliban are played by women–Nancy Bleemer and Katherine Stewart. Miss Stewart's Caliban is particularly interesting, more complex than most Calibans, evoking more sympathy and less revulsion than the part is generally allowed. Most of the low-comedy scenes are really funny, thanks to the above pair and to the Stephano of Jamie Horton, an actor who can do no wrong whatever part he plays.

Alas poor Antonio and sad Sebastian! Their plot to murder the King of Naples and his honest councillor comprises one of the dullest scenes Shakespeare ever wrote. Even Mr. Ivers' magic wand cannot breatbe excitement into that situation.

For their contributions to the happy goings-on on the Intime stage, I hail Julia Sly (costuming), Randal Rupert (setting), Mal Sturchio (lighting), Lisa Hahn (assistant director and--I must assume--choreographer), Anne Adams (music), and Karen Norlander, whose poster notice outside the theatre beautifully captures the spirit of the play. An obeisance all his own must go to Mitchell Ivers, whose outstanding career in all phases of Theatre Intime's work reaches a climax with his direction of "The Tempest."

An unusual number of performances are still scheduled: this week from November 10 through 14, and also on November 18, 19, and 20. For reservations, call 452-8181.

FROM deSICA

His Last FIlm. "A Brief Vacation," the last film of the Italian director Vittorio De Sica, will be shown at McCarter next Tuesday at 8 p.m in the "Movies-at-McCarter" series. DeSica, who had directed such classics as "The Bicycle Thief," "The Garden of the Finzi-Continis" and "Shoeshine," died last year.

"A Brief Vacation" tells about a young factory worker in Milan who discovers, while in a sanitorium for treatment of tuberculosis, the individualism she has surrendered and the intellectual life she had left behind. De Sica's moral seems to be: in Italy, it's better to be sick than healthy.

Herbert McAneny is directing the play, and Jeff Hudgins is stage manager. Assisting as scene designers and technical consultants are Mrs. Irene Daubert and Mrs. Barbara Seid, of the P.D.S. Parents' Association.

RUN CONTINUES
For Triangle's 'Boy Friend.'

The Princeton Triangle Club Workshops will continue its successful engagement of "The Boy Friend" this weekend. The 20's musical will be presented at 8 Thursday and 8:30 Friday and Saturday nights at 185 Nassau Street (the Old Nassau Street School). The run will conclude with a 2 o'clock matinee Sunday.

Audience reaction has been uniformly enthusiastic. This can be attributed to both the nature of the show and the enthusiasm of the cast. "We have had a great time with this production, and it shows" commented Chip Lamason, president of the Triangle Club. "The show is light hearted and entertaining, and the energy of the cast makes the show come to life."

Credit is also due to Milton Lyon for his superb direction of this production, and to Princeton student Lynne Dennis for her excellent choreography.

Remaining seats for "The Boy Friend" are on sale at McCarter Theatre box office and will be sold at the door. Admission is $3.50 for adults, $2.50 for students with I.D.

PRINCE

The Front. This is an appealing, informative and involving comedy-drama about the entertainment industry's famous "blacklist" of the early 1950's.

In a fine dramatic performance, Woody Allen is outstanding as a none-too-bright cashier catapulted to fame by submitting the scripts of banished TV writers under his own name. Allen becomes a committed martyr to free speech and although the film is essentially a fantasy it nonetheless manages to portray the absurdity and underlying destructiveness of the era to great effect.

True to the fairy-tale framework, Allen not only manages to bluff his way through script conferences and gain the love of an attractive left-leaning intellectual but becomes transformed. From a self-serving nebbish, he blossoms into a noble and courageous man of principle, telling the House Un-American Activities Committee to go jump, and then marching off triumphantly to jail on a proudly-earned contempt citation.

Far from diluting the witch hunt mentality of the period, the pervasive good humor of the film is no less informative than any grim documentary. Behind the laughs and the one-liners, there is much that is unsettling.

PRINCE

Marathon Man. Somewhere at the core of "Marathon Man" is an ingenious, offbeat suspense thriller struggling to break out of its over-embellished cocoon and get down to business. Seldom has such topflight acting and production been labored on such a potboiler.

Dustin Hoffman is an athletic Columbia graduate student – the athlete of the title -- who innocently becomes involved with Laurence Olivier, an infamous Nazi concentration camp dentist into a grisly battle to the death. Murder and blood abounds. The violence is graphic and relentless.

The film represents a gamble – using an eminently serious director, John Schlesinger, to spin an escapist thriller that could have been parcelled out to any lower-eschelon hack and filmed as quickly and cheaply as the material deserved. It ultimately works, but only as a thriller.

Olivier plays the most villainous character of his career with enormous intensity. Hoffman's performance is superb, proving again that there isn't any role that he can't master.

Robert Miller Gives Pleasing Performance Of Contemporary Piano Music at McCarter

Serious contemporary music often makes unusual demands on performer and listener alike. Such was indeed the case when pianist Robert Miller brought a program of contemporary music to McCarter Theatre Monday evening. Three of the pieces were written especially for him and it is these which demand our attention.

Mario Davidovsky's "Synchronisms No. 6" (1970), is aptly named. It relies on a tight phasing of piano and electronic sounds with each modifying and exposing the other.

Mr. Miller, who played this difficult work from memory, did communicate the closeness of the relationship between piano and taped sounds. The piece, which was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1971, was well chiseled, but hardly inspired.

A Babbitt Composition. The other work for piano and synthesized sound, "Reflections" (1975), by Milton Babbitt, related tape and piano in a rather different manner. The combination here was highly polyphonic and one was always aware of layers and levels of musical material.

This is a work which begins and finishes in "res media." The listener has a multitude of events and relationships to follow. The electronic sounds in this piece were more interesting and varied than those found in the Davidovsky work.

"Makrokosmos II" (1973), by George Crumb, though it made the most unusual requests of the performer (whistling, singing, yelling) and though the piano was prepared (paper and other paraphernalia), was the least interesting of the three works. It relied on a bag of tricks suitable for post - Hallowe'en trimmings.

Actually, the piece seemed like a parody of better work of Crumb, such as "Ancient Voices of Children." There is little motivation here for the repetitive exploration of the piano's guts. Nor does the whispering of the "Agnus Dei" seem prepared.

At its best moments, there are streaks of Debussy with their diatonic luster. There are more specific quotes (Mussorgsky and Beethoven), but again these seem unmotivated.

One is not sure what musical stuff this piece is made from. It does use the piano as sound source in varied ways, but one is hardly convinced that a piece is the result.

Despite the above reaction to the Crumb, one must congratulate Robert Miller on his programming. He is happily willing to remove music from her guilded and customary mausoleum. His performances were scrupulously prepared and served the music well.

TO PREMIERE ORATORIO

At Princeton Seminary, "New Land, New Covenant," the Howard Hanson - Howard Clark Kee Bicentennial oratorio, will be presented for the first time in the Princeton area in a concert in Princeton Seminary's Miller Chapel on Tuesday at 8:30.

The public is invited to hear the performance as guests of the Seminary. While there is no charge for admission, all seats are reserved. Those interested in attending are requested to call or write: The Rev. Donald G. Lewis, Princeton Theological Seminary, 921-8300.

The soprano lead will be sung by Reader's Digest Association Affiliate Artist Joy Simpson, who will be in an Affiliate Artist Residency on the Seminary campus for the week of the concert. Performing with Miss Simpson will be baritone David Arnold, a member of the Westminster Choir College faculty and soloist at Trinity Church.

The Seminary Chapel Choir and the Girls' Choir of Trinity will form the chorus. Dr. G. Robert Jacks of the Seminary speech department will be narrator; James H. Litton director of music, will conduct; and Ronald W. Haizlip, a senior in the Seminary's Master of Divinity program, will be the organist.

The program will open with Miss Simpson's presentation of the Benjamin Britten song cycle "On This Island." The First Prize winner of the 1975 Naumburg Voice Competition, she is a graduate of Temple University and The Juilliard School.

A highly successful choral conductor, accredited teacher of Black Studies, and accomplished pianist, she was a regional winner in the recent Metropolitan Opera auditions and has performed with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra.

Mr. Arnold, a graduate of Indiana University, has recently sung leading roles at the Spoleto Festival in Italy. In the current season he has been a soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in Symphony Hall, Boston, and in Carnegie Hall, New York City.

"New Land, New Covenant" was commissioned by Princeton Seminary, The Brick Presbyterian Church in New York City and the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church in response to a concern that the national Bicentennial celebration include some expression of the religious bases for the founding of this country.

The work is divided into five sections in which the development of the nation is compared with parallel events in the Old Testament and portions of Revelation: Creation and Fall; New Exodus, New Covenant (1620); The Great Awakening (1750); New Order of the Ages (1776); and Renewing the Covenant (1976). Included are quotations from materials as diverse as T.S. Eliot's "Choruses from the Rock" and John Witherspoon's "Address to the Natives of Scotland Residing in America."

Marlboro Musicians in Flat Performance-- Faulty Programming a Contributing Factor

It is not that the members of Music from Marlboro who performed at McCosh Hall last Wednesday are bad musicians. It is, rather, that they are deathly serious. Nor is it that they are uninvolved with the music they perform. They are, if anything, punctilious. But caution does not lead to transcendence, and their performance fell flat. They seemed to play under glass, removed from the possibility of communicating the music directly.

The choice of program did not help matters at all. String sextets by Schoenberg and Dvorak framed two shorter string quartets by Hugo Wolf. The only piece of interest was Schoenberg's "Verklarte Nacht, Opus 4." This is a two-faced piece, looking backwards nostalgically at tonality, but aware that the path is blocked and looking forward to a technique of motivic transformation where a musical idea can be free for development on its own terms.

"Verklarte Nacht" is a long, moody piece, beginning with a low, somber intonation in viola and cello, and working its way to some fluffier frills. This piece suffered the least in performance, despite some problems of intonation, especially at points where there were exposed octaves.

The other works presented did not come close to the caliber of the Schoenberg. Wolf's string quartets "Intermezzo" and Italian Serenade" are trifles.

They are both light, rather dancing pieces, with an abundance of ideas traded among the four players. The connections of sections are tenuous at best and one can well understand why it is that Wolf is remembered for his songs, and not for such work as this.

The Dvorak "String Sextet in A Major, Opus 48" fared even worse. Its position as the last work on the program did not help at all.

Again, there was nothing really terrible about the piece. It was just excruciatingly overextended and nothing about the performance helped one overlook this problem.

One can only hope that with a more worthy program, this groups, led by Felix Galmir, would acquit itself better. This "Outside the Series Concert," presented by Princeton University Concerts, was sorely disappointing.

Young Soloists Sought

Auditions for soloists to perform with the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra in its annual spring concert May 11 will be held Wednesday, December 8, at 7:30 in the Music House on the Lawrenceville School campus. The auditions are open to instrumentalists of high school age and singers of both high school and college age.

Those auditioning should bring an accompanist and be prepared to play or sing all movements of a concerto by memory. For audition forms, which must be returned by December 1, write MCSO, the Lawrenceville School, or call 896-0400, ext. 22. The Symphonic Orchestra is a youth orchestra composed of young people from many area communities who rehearse weekly at Lawrenceville and will give its first free concert of the season on December 1 in Kirby Arts Center.

Music in Princeton

The oratorio is scored for full orchestra, but may also be accompanied by organ with brass and percussion or, as in this performance, by organ alone.

FIFTH SEASON OPENS

For Medievalists. Musica Alta, a group of singers and instrumentalists performing music of the Middle Ages and Renaissance, will open its fifth season Tuesday at 8:30 in 10 McCosh Hall on the Princeton University campus. Robert Moreen, assistant professor of music at Princeton and the group's founder, will direct a program of works by Ludwig Senfl (1490-1543).

The 13-member chorus is composed of undergraduate and graduate students and faculty members. Assisting Prof. Moreen will be Katherine Rohrer, third year graduate student, and Jennifer Lehmann who will conduct the instrumentalists. The various instruments used include lute, viola da gamba, krummhorns and recorders.

The concert, sponsored by the Friends of Music, is free and open to the public.

THREE TO PERFORM

In Sunday Concert. The Friends of Music at Princeton will present Michael Long, clarinet, Jennifer Guy, violoncello and Frederick Zeigler, piano, in a free concert on Sunday at 3:00 p.m. in Woolworth Center on the Princeton University campus.

They will perform "Adagio" (from the Toccato in C Major, for organ) by Bach-Siloti; Beethoven's "Sonata for 'Cello and Piano" Opus 5, No. 1 and Brahms' "Trio for Clarinet, 'Cello and Piano" Opus 114.

Frederick Zeigler and Michael Long are both graduate students in musicology at Princeton. Ms. Guy graduated from Ohio State University and while there was a member of the University Orchestra and string quartet.

CONCERT THIS FRIDAY

To Benefit Mercer Orchestra. Cellist Pierre Djokic, of Trenton, will be one of the guest artists along with pianist Lois Shaffer, at this Friday's 8 p.m. benefit concert for the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra at The Lawrenceville School's Kirby Arts Center.

Mr. Djokic is well-known in this area because of previous concerts presented with the Greater Trenton Symphony and at The Lawrenceville School. Currently studying with Leonard Rose and Channing Robbins at the Juilliard School, this 19-year old musician made his debut at the age of twelve with the Philadelphia Orchestra. Winner of numerous awards and competitions, he has appeared with the N.J. Symphony, Brooklyn and Great Neck Symphonics, and the Juilliard Concert Orchestra. Pierre Djokic will perform Haydn's "Cello Concerto in D Major."

Ms. Shaffer will play Beethoven's "Piano Concerto No 4," the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra Symphonette, conductor Dr. Matteo Giammario, will perform Mozart's "Overture to the Marriage of Figaro." SERIES TO OPEN

With String Players. The Collegium Musicum of Princeton, Joseph Kovacs, soloist and conductor, will open the Trinity - All Saints' Concert Series with a program of music for strings on Sunday at 8 p.m. The concert will be held at All Saints' Church, All Saints' Road (off Terhune Road), and the public is invited.

The program will include the Concerto Grosso No. 6 of Handel, two movements from the "Fifteen Mysteries" of Biber, Nielssen's Little Suite, op. 1, and the Holberg Suite of Grieg. Mr. Kovacs will be the violin soloist in the Biber work, with continuo supplied by Claire Holland, cello, and David Agler, harpsichord.

Now in its ninth year, the Trinity - All Saints' Concert Series is jointly sponsored by Princeton's two Episcopal churches and will again present a number of visiting artists well - known in this country and Europe, as well as local musicians of distinction. Mr. Kovacs, the Collegium's founder, musical director and frequent soloist, is a professor at Douglas College. Other Princetonians who will be heard in the Series are David Agler, harpsichordist, Frank Taplin, pianist, and Dr. Lee H. Bristol Jr., organist.

From abroad will come Osian Ellis, Benjamin Britten's favorite harpist, who will premiere a Menotti work at Alice Tully Hall this winter, Peter Hurford, the great English organist and conductor, and the Collegium Musicum of the Martinikirche of Bremen, West Germany, recording artists for Deutsche Gramophon.

BRAHMS IS NEXT

In Amateurs' Sunday Sings. The Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will hold an open reading rehearsal of the Brahms "Liebeslieder Waltzes" Sunday at 4 in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road and Route 206. These pieces for chorus and soloists will be conducted by Dr. Joseph Flummerfelt of the Westminster Choir College, with the assistance of pianists David Beckwith and Eric Howe.

Anyone with musical interest and modest sight - reading ability is welcome to participate in these "sings," held once a month, which are in no way performances. Admission for non - members is $2 per session, students are admitted free of charge. For further information call Mrs. Ramus at 924-4266.

TO HEAR FLUTE, HARP

In Choir College Concert. A joint recital for flute and harp will be presented in the Playhouse of the Westminster Choir College Tuesday at 8. Claire Racamato, flute, and Sarah Bullen, harp, will be joined for part of the program by Marion Zarzeczna at the piano.

The three performers are all members of the Preparatory Department's teaching staff at the Choir College. Ms. Racamato, a graduate of the New England Conservatory, is also on the faculty of Trenton State and is a flutist with the Trenton Symphony. Ms. Zarzeczna is a Leschetizky Award winner and teacbes, also, at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. Ms. Bullen is a free - lance performer in New York and a pupil of Marcel Granjany.

Ms. Racamato will use three different flutes in the concert, a Baroque Genser flute which is a simple tube of wood with holes and only one key; a conical Boehm flute which was invented in 1832, is also of wood but has metal ring keys; and a modern silver orchestral instrument. Included in the program are works by Mozart, Widor, Godard, Boismortier, Telemann, Granjany, Nino Rota, and Marcel Tournier.

RECITAL SUNDAY

By Joan Lippincott, Organist. Organist Joan Lippincott will present a recital in Lawrenceville School's Edith Memorial Chapel on Sunday at 4:30. Her program, open to the public at no charge, will include works of J. S. Bach, Nicolas De Gregny and Jehan Alain. This will be her only appearance in the Princeton area this year.

Miss Lippincott has been critically acclaimed as one of America's outstanding young organ virtuosos. She has been heard in recital extensively throughout the United States and Europe, including Hawaii and the Bahamas, well received not only for her outstanding technique, but for her sensitive musicianship.

In addition to her recital schedule in this country and Europe, Mrs. Lippincott has been a member of the faculty at Westminster Choir College since 1960 and Head of the Organ Department since 1968. She heads the largest organ department in the world, although she prefers to speak of the outstanding quality of the work of the students and faculty rather than of numbers.

CHILDREN'S OPERA SET

By Opera Association. The Princeton Opera Association's annual production for children will be "Help, Help, the Globolinks!" by Gian Carlo Menotti. Performances will be given on the afternoon of Saturday, December 4, at 1:30 and 3:15 at the John Witherspoon School. Igor Chichagov is the music director, Renata D'Ippolito is the stage director, and set design, lighting, and special effects will be executed by Avery Chenoweth.

Members of the cast are Carole Davis of Lambertville; Jean Thomas, Virginia Cole, Jane Lawrence, Bruce Turner, Steve Owen and Scott Ward, all of Princeton; Thomas H. Brown of South Somerville; Sandra West of Milltown, and Charles Goings of Trenton.

Singing in the children's chorus are Lisa Gustafson of Lawrenceville; Lynn Sheehan, Debbie Dierdoff, Sheila Webb, Linda Ashley and Andrew and Natalie Shelpuk of Princeton; Dorothy O'Leary, Bruce Aswald and Shirley Peters of Titusville; Leila Katz of Kendall Park; and Tiffany Bogart of Hamilton Township.

The story concerns an invasion of Globolinks from outer space. The earth is saved by a group of school children who discover, after many weird and wonderful adventures, that the only thing Globolinks hate and fear is the sound of music.

LEARNING THEIR WAY AROUND: The YWCA Newcomers Club offers recent arrivals to the area a chance to participate in numerous activities each month, including Town and Country Tours and Luncheon Out. Checking their maps for the best routes to take are, from left, Town and Country co-chairmen Myrna Sambrook and Ann Gavares and Luncheon Out co-chairmen Marion Ott and Lorna Kaluzny. The Newcomers Club meets the second Thursday of each month at the YWCA on Paul Robeson Place.

News Of Clubs and Organizations

GALAPAGOS IS FOCUS Of Sierra Club Film. The Central Jersey group of the Sierra Club will meet Tuesday at 8 in Peyton Hall on the University campus. Robert Cook, a New York attorney and urban planner will give a slide presentation on "Galapagos: Endangered Paradise," Mr. Cook was one of eleven passengers, and Hope Cobb, conservation chairman of the Central Jersey group, was another, on a three week tour of the Galapagos last February sponsored by The Friends of the Earth.

The group visited eight of the 15 islands which are located 650 miles off the coast of Ecuador, traveling on a 65-foot Baltic trading vessel built around the turn of the century. Giant tortoises that weigh 500 pounds and live to be 150, rare sea birds, rainbow colored iguanas four feet long and tame fur seals are some of the highlights of the film.

Man's introduction of domestic species to the islands, which had existed in complete isolation, has affected the unique indigenous wildlife, Mrs. Cobb said. She cited the goats and pigs which devour vegetation required by the huge tortoises. The group visited the Darwin Research Station which is devoted to the propagation of this tortoise.

A discussion of wildlife legislation, both international and in New Jersey, will precede the presentation. Emphasis will be given to The Marine Mammals Protection Act which is designed to protect such species as the porpoise and the whale throughout the world.

All regular monthly meetings of the Club are open to the interested public. There is work for all who can help actively or by membership support, according to Mrs. Cobb. For further information call 921-7808 or 924-3297.

Princeton Weavers Guild will meet Thursday at 8 at First National Bank of Central Jersey at Rocky Hill. The program will be "Interactions of Color" by Joy Rosner. For further information call 448-4533.

The National Association of Accountants, Princeton Chapter, will meet next Wednesday for cocktails at 5, dinner at 6, in the Old Yorke Inn, Route 130, East Windsor. Earl Johnson of the firm Price Waterhouse will present a three-hour multimedia course on Managing Your Time."

Anyone interested in the accounting professions, whether as an accountant or as a student, is invited. Call Ray Schluchter, director of meetings, 448-4000. Charles Sabino is president.

The Hightstown Registered Nurses Association will meet Tuesday at 8 at the Old Yorke Inn.

Guest speaker will be David Yoresh of the National Foundation for Sudden Infant Death who will also show a film. All registered nurses are invited.

The purpose of the organization is to keep nurses informed of new concepts and techniques in medicine. Meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month. For further information call 448-6350.

"Background and Import of the new Federal Estate and Gift Tax Legislation" will be the topic of the next meeting of the Mercer County Estate Planning Council on Tuesday at Greenacres County Club, Lawrenceville.

Addressing the group will be Robert L. Bevan, associate federal legislative counsel of the American Bankers Association. Mr. Bevan, formerly a partner in the Washington law firm of Fensterwald, Bevan and Ohlhausen, has served as counsel to the Bankers Association since 1969.

Membership in the Mercer County Estate Planning Council is open to those engaged in the financial planning area. A program of professional meetings are held each year and topics of general and timely interest are presented. For further information on the organization, call Guy Dean at 989-5132.

Mary P. McPherson, Dean of Bryn Mawr College, will be the guest of honor at a supper party Wedensday, November 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Spitzer, 659 Lake Drive. Area alumnae will have an opportunity to hear news of the college, which recently exceeded its goal of $21 million for capital funds by nearly $3 million.

The fund raising event, an annual sale of second - hand books, will be held for the 46th time in the spring. Six students from Central New Jersey are currently receiving scholarship awards from the proceeds of the last sale. Alumnae who wish to attend the supper should notify Mrs. John Claghorn, 921-6813, who is in charge of arrangements.

Sharon A. Schilling

Sharon A. Schilling, formerly second vice president of the Business and Professional Women's Club , has been named president following the departure of Mrs. Wanda Mendez and Ms. Sylvia Harrington, formerly president and first vice president respectively, from the Princeton area.

A member of the board of directors of the Princeton Club for the past two years, Ms. Schilling has also served at the District level as a member of the District Nominating Committee. She is employed as a sales agent with the Princeton Field Underwriting Office of the New York Life Insurance Company, and is affiliated on a part - time basis with Chase Real Estate in Pennington. A resident of Titusville, she is also a member of the Hopewell Valley League of Women Voters and of the Princeton Ski Club.

The Mount Holyoke Alumnae Club will hold its fall meeting on Wednesday, November 17, at 8 at the home of Mrs. Harry Hill, 2858 Main Street, Lawrenceville. Elizabeth F. Kauzmann will speak and show slides on India where she and her family recently lived. President Jean Mahoney and press chairman Fleur Chandler will report on their recent campus visit for Alumane Council.

Plans will be discussed for the April appearance at McCarter Theater of actress Julie Harris who last week was honored at the South Hadley, Mass. campus Founder's Day ceremonies with a Doctor of Fine Arts Degree.

Officers for 1976-77 will be Mrs. Michael Mahoney, president; Mrs. Robert D. Reed, vice - president; Mrs. Joseph Irenas, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas M. Petrone, secretary; and Mrs. Thomas Sharp, school contacts chairman.

The Mercer County Chapter of New Jersey Right To Life will meet Tuesday, at 7:30 in the Community Room of the Yardville National Bank's Center City Office, White Horse, Mercerville and Kuser Roads.

Topics of the Town

Next Thursday, the Seminary will go before the Borough Zoning Board to ask for a use variance, which is needed because the house is in the R-1 residential zone. (The Zoning Board meeting is normally the last Thursday in the month, but it has been rescheduled because of Thanksgiving Day.)

The Planning Board has already given a favorable review, requesting the seven parking spaces.

One last hurdle may remain. In recent months, Timothy J. Sheehan has, almost routinely, been taking Zoning Board and applicants to court over the granting of use variances. Nobody will comment on this possibility, but it isn't preventing the Seminary from applying anyway.

WREATHS TO BE LAID

On Veterans' Day. Continuing its custom for the last 50 years, Princeton Post 76, American Legion, will lay a wreath at the monument at the corner of Mercer and Stockton streets, on Veterans' Day, Thursday, November 11, at 11 a.m.

The ceremony to honor veterans of World War I, World War II and the Korean and Vietnam conflicts has been conducted every year, at precisely this time, since the monument was erected. The ceremonies this year will be led by Henry J. Frank and The Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker, respectively, Service Officer and Chaplain of Princeton Post 76.

Following this, the American Legion group will proceed to Dutch Neck, where another wreath-laying ceremony will take place at 12:30 at the World War II monument in front of West Windsor's old township hall (now police headquarters).

FRANKLIN PLANS DAY

On Career and College. Do you remember those difficult decisions you had to make as a teenager? Deciding whether to go into business or industry, pursue technical training or go to college; making decisions about careers which were virtually unknown to you?

Today, you can look back upon experiences in your field and assess them with an objective eye. Franklin High School would like you to share that knowledge and expertise with its students on "Career and College Day", November 17.

From noon to 3 p.m. that afternoon, Franklin High pupils will be given the opportunity to meet with representatives of industry, businesses, colleges, career schools and organizations. In addition, volunteers from all areas of employment are invited to participate in the program, discussing and answering questions on their own careers, training and skills.

Interested persons can contact Jacques Schmied, Carolann Damsky or George Armstrong for further information on "Career and College Day." They can be reached by phoning the Franklin High School Guidance Department at 873-2400, Ext. 234.

22 BIRTHS LISTED

At Princeton Medical Center. In the week ending November 6, 15 boys and seven girls were born in the Medical Center at Princeton.

PS WHERE PEOPLE MAKE THE DIFFERENCE

In Princeton and Lawrenceville

Some people think of us as just a money machine but...

They don't realize how involved Princeton Savings becomes in each of the communities it serves.

Last month we helped one of your neighbors start his own tax sheltered retirement fund. Across town a friend of yours got a low cost home improvement loan at Princeton Savings. Someone else you probably know came to us for a mortgage on his first home just yesterday. Every day of the year our savings experts make money go farther for people like you.

We think that being involved in our community makes us a lot warmer than a money machine. That's why we say at Princeton Savings, people make the difference.

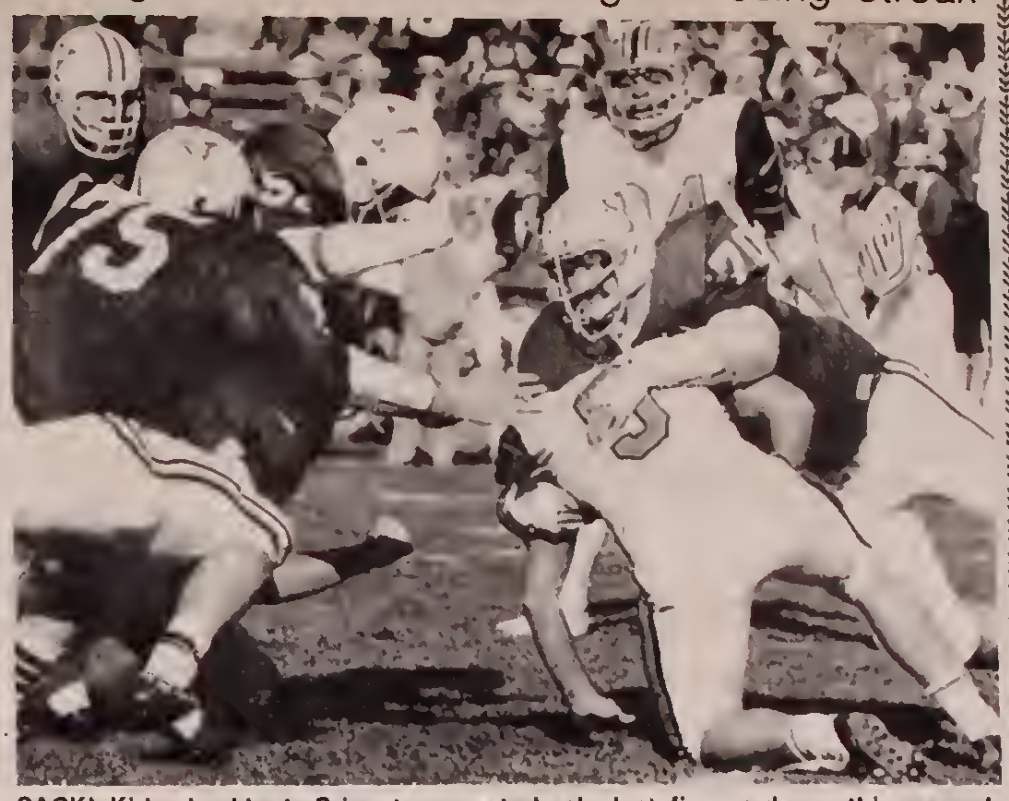
Football Season Ends with Dartmouth Saturday As Tigers Build Toward Longest Losing Streak



SACK! Kirby Lockhart, Princeton quarterbeck, lost five yards on this second period play in the Yale Bowl. Four other similar credits for the Eli defense gave the Tigers a debit of 23 yards rushing in the first half as home team was rolling to 39-7 triumph.

(Bob Matthews Photo)

Because of the change in scheduling policy adopted by the Ivy League this fall, Princeton's football season will come to its earliest end Saturday in 30 years. It is just as well.

The downtrodden Tigers, quite likely to absorb their seventh defeat of the year at Dartmouth's hands in Palmer Stadium, have done almost nothing right this fall. By a total margin of 9 points, they have won two games that have kept them from becoming the first team in Princeton history to lose them all.

But they were trounced at New Haven last week, 39 to 7, the most one-sided defeat in the Yale series since 1931; they have not won a game at home since September 27, 1975; and it is a virtual certainty that they are building toward the longest losing streak in the 107 years since they originated the sport with Rutgers. A loss to Dartmouth this weekend would end the current season with five in a row, and the first three games next year pit them against Dartmouth at Hanover, Rutgers here and Brown at Providence. Eight in a row has never happened before.

For those who remember, the inept performance of Al Wittmer's last Princeton team in the Yale Bowl 45 years ago had certain similarities to the brand of football Princeton displayed Saturday. Both teams had been solidly beaten well before the first half ended, both contributed largely to the size of the final score with costly mistakes, both showed to great disadvantage in light of their inadequate blocking and loose tackling contrasted to the crisp execution of the fundamentals by Yale.

Rarely has the chroni. inability of the Princeton offense been so clearly shown as it was in the first half. The Blue ran and passed over the Princeton defense for 224 yards during that time, to 9 yards for the Tigers–a ratio of better than 24 to 1. On the ground, the Orange and Black was minus 23.

Total Offense: 465. The final figures were almost as bad–465 to 107–with the Elis' great back, John Pagliaro, being credited with more than three times as many yards rushing (95) as all the Princeton ball carriers (29). Pagliaro, of course, was not subject to the sack, an indignity that happened to Kirby Lockhart and Jack Flannery half a dozen times.

The three touchdowns Pagliaro scored raised his season's total to 15–one more than Calvin Hill's all-time Yale mark. He'll be back next year, along with sophomore Jack Hatem, whose style is very much similar but who so far hasn't had as much playing time.

The Tigers dug the first shovelful of their grave early on when a center snap sailed well over punter Mike Stein's head and into the end zone for a safety. The Elis then drove to a pair of first-half TDs, and added two more within 66 seconds shortly after play resumed. One was set up by a fumbled kickoff, both were recorded by Pagliaro, whose tackle-busting capabilities are considerable.

After the Elis had rolled up 32 points, Princeton went 78 yards to avert a shutout, aided no little by a pass interference penalty in the end zone that gave it the ball on the one. Sophomore Greg Larson then took the ball over.

The home team's third stringers achieved the day's last TD, passing for the final eight yards with seven seconds on the clock. Carm Cozza, the Yale coach, said he was hoping for an interception, and that he was sorry.

A lot of Princetonians were sorry about a lot more than that.

DARTMOUTH BELOW PAR

For Dartmouth. Although Dartmouth seems assured of repeating its 1975 first-division finish, the Green has not won an Ivy football championship for the past five years, far and away the longest drought Hanover has experienced in the two decades since formal competition began. Overall, the New Hampshire entry in the Ivy League derby has a higher winning percentage than any other member, and the lack of ability to finish on top since 1972 does not sit well with the Green.

Princeton, a team Dartmouth has always dearly loved to beat, is likely to take the brunt of its frustration Saturday. A year ago, the Green did its best to give the game away when it committed seven turnovers, but Princeton found the conception of victory more than it could handle, and wound up losing, 21 to 16.

Unable to match the best efforts of Harvard, Yale and Brown this season, Dartmouth has been able to lord it over Penn (20-0), Cornell (35-0) and Columbia (35-14). Because comparative scores are not wholly without value, Princeton's inability to beat Penn

Here's a football oddity...A major college team once scored more points than their opponents one season--yet won only 3 of 10 games that year!...In 1968, Washington State totaled 189 points during the season while their opponents got only 188 against them, but despite that, Washington State's record was 3 wons, 6 losses and a tie!

Did you know Notre Dame once played 23 years without losing a home football game!...The Irish lost a home game in October of 1905, then never lost another one till Nov. 17, 1928 when Carnegie Tech beat them 17-7...That loss to Carneigie Tech, by the way, turned out to be the ONLY game home game Knute Rockne ever lost in his entire coaching career!

and its narrow victories over Cornell and Columbia would indicate more woe for the troubled Tigers in their final game this weekend.

Like Yale, Dartmouth has not had to pass much to beat opponents over which it is superior. Quarterback Kevin Case nonetheless has a completion average of around 60 percent and five scoring passes and as a running quarterback is the team's total offense leader by a wide margin.

The top ball carrier is halfback Sam Coffey, followed by fullback Curt Oberg, both with average gains of close to five yards a play. Harry Wilson, an Ivy leader in pass receptions, is the target for most of Case's aerials.

As has almost invariably been the situation this fall, Princeton will find itself outclassed in the kicking game. Nick Lowery, the placement specialist, is batting 1.000 in both field goal attempts (7 for 7, with one of 51 yards to his credit) and 24 in a row after touchdowns. In the unlikely event the game is close, he could be the difference.

On the football field just east of the Stadium Saturday morning Princeton's Class of 1980 will play the Montclair State Jayvees in an attempt to win its second game of the season against three defeats and a tie. In Ivy action, the freshmen lost to Yale, 21-7 and Columbia, 14-0, edging Penn, 29 to 28. Nothing more than average material appears available next year to the varsity from this source.

Thirteen seniors who have started most of the time this season will play their last game for Princeton. On the offensive line, Captain Dan Fournier, split end; guard Kevin Fox and tight end Todd Jacobson will conclude their careers, while in the backfield, halfback Mike Howard, fullback Art Walker and flanker Mike Carter will graduate next June.

On defense, the front five will lose 80 percent of its membership with the departure of end Hank Howarth, tackles Ted Schiller and Steve Fletcher and middle guard Marc Fiorvanti. Linebackers Steve Lang and Paul McKeon are seniors, as is safety Pete Bartlett. Their graduation will wipe out much of the strength of the defensive unit, the only plus Princeton has had going for it this fall.

Reserves who will end their careers include split end Todd Caliguire, tackle Mike Murburg and quarterback Jack Flannery on offense; tackle Randy Gress and safety Rich Hopstock on defense.

It has been a tough football experience for the Princeton Class of '76, one that has seen it win 10 of 26 games, with one to go. While it won all three of its games from both Columbia and Cornell, the current seniors never experienced victory over Brown, Penn or Yale. They were 1-1-1 against Rutgers, 1-2 against Harvard and Colgate, and are 1-1 going into their third game with Dartmouth.

HUN FINALE SATURDAY

Against Admiral Farragut. The Hun School football team will end its season Saturday against visiting Admiral Farragut and for coach Dave Leete and his beleaguered squad the end can't come soon enough.

For the second time this year, Hun couldn't get on the scoreboard and dropped a 21-0 decision Friday to Pingry. The loss was Hun's sixth in seven games. "Something's missing," said Leete.

The finale with Admiral Farragut will start at 1:30. Like Hun, the Future Admirals haven't done much this season and Leete commented that Hun would do its best to wind up the season a winner.

Against Pingry, which, like Hun, had entered the contest with a 1-5 record, it was a familiar story for Hun: costly mistakes and inability to mount a sustained offense.

A roughing-the-kicker penalty and a fumble right after Hun had recovered a Pingry fumble on its own one-yard line set up two of Pingry's scores. The victors scored on a seven-yard pass and on plunges of one and two yards by Bill Cunningham.

The best runner for Hun was junior Tommy Adams. The closest Hun came was in the final period when it advanced to the Pingry 15 but an interception ended that drive.

PDS LOSES 3-1

To Lawrenceville. One of the big ones got away, but another is still within reach of the Princeton Day soccer team this week.

The Panthers lost 3-1 to Lawrenceville last Wednesday, a team they have never defeated in four attempts. However, if the Blue and White can win a game scheduled against Dwight-Englewood this Wednesday, it will be in the finals of the NJISAA Class B tournament on Friday. PDS is the top seeded team in the playoffs, and is favored to recapture the title it lost last year to Wardlaw.

Lawrenceville, who is seeded number 1 in the Class A division, broke a 1-1 tie in the second quarter on a goal by Kip Sparrow. Eric Salans added an insurance goal in the third period.

The Larries only got four shots on goal the whole game, but made three of them count against PDS goalies John Rodgers and Bob McClellan. John Hickling scored the lone PDS goal in the first period. The Panthers had 10 chances against Lawrenceville goalie Skip Gilbert.

On Friday, the Panthers got back on the winning side, whipping Pennington, 3-0 on goals by Mike Walters, his 22nd of the season, Baird Winham and Andy Sanford. The Blue and White finished its regular season 11-2-2.

PDS GIRLS WIN 3

In Soccer. Playing some of their best soccer of the season, the Princeton Day girls' won three games last week, and raised their season's record to 12-3-1.

The PDS tournament was scheduled to begin this Wednesday afternoon with the Panthers matched against Hillside High, a team they have defeated twice already, and Princeton High playing Edison High.

If the contests turn out as expected, Princeton Day will meet Princeton High in the finals at 3 p.m. this Friday. Princeton High has won two previous games this season, but the Panthers are at the top of their game at the moment, and could well pull off an upset.

The Blue and White began its week last Tuesday by avenging an earlier loss to Montgomery High School. Alexis Arlett scored all three goals in the 3-0 triumph.

QUICK LOOK AT DARTMOUTH

OFFENSE: Has had problems against league's top teams but is explosive against those in second division. Good blend of running and passing.

DEFENSE: Not top-drawer, but should be more than adequate against Princeton

CHIEF ASSET: Danmouth teams are almost invariably well drilled in basic football.

CHIEF PROBLEM: In contrast to most other years of past decade, Dartmouth has no one capable of consistently making the big play

TYPE OF ATTACK: Multiple-T.

The following day it traveled to Edison High, and again did better than the first time. These two teams had played a scoreless tie in the opening game of the season at PDS.

Arlett continued her fine offensive play with a first period goal, and Drew Rosenberg added tallies in the second and third quarters for a 3-0 PDS advantage. With about eight minutes remaining in the contest, coach Alan Taback put in his second unit to finish out the game.

Edison responded with two goals in three minutes and suddenly the game had turned around. Taback quickly returned his first string players to action, and they needed only a minute to score an insurance marker on a perfect downfield drive and reverse the momentum again. Edison did not threaten

It Was 25 Years Ago That Kazmaier Led Princeton to Victory Over Cornell, 53 to 15, Running and Passing for 360 Yards

THE WAY IT WAS: Number 42 sets up for a pass, beating Cornell rush for a completion average that day of 88%. (Newark News Photo)

The Princeton football team of 1951 will be in Palmer Stadium Saturday, bringing back to many Tiger fans memories of one of the most astonishing triumphs an Orange and Black team ever recorded, and of the All-American tailback whose performance that day still stands unsurpassed.

On a crisp afternoon 25 years ago, Cornell brought its 4-and-0 team to play Charlie Caldwell's equally-undefeated Princetonians. The ticket booths skirting the Stadium never opened that morning – every one of 47,828 seats had been sold several days earlier.

When the game was over, the scoreboard showed 53 for the home team and 15 for the visitors. Cornell coach Lefty James, a 27-0 victim of the Tigers the previous fall, commented, "We spent a whole year planning on how to stop Kazmaier, and this is what happened to us."

What happened to Cornell, (one of the true eastern powers of that era with a record of 27 victories in its last 31 games, including a triumph over Michigan) became the heart of the Kazmaier legend. He ran and passed for a total of 360 yeards, 124 on the ground and 15 for 17 for 236 yards in the air. Of the eight Princeton touchdowns, he scored two and passed for three more. Statistically and artistically, nothing like it has been seen, before or since, in Princeton football.

Two-Year All-American Dick Kazmaier

Aided by a superb Tiger defense, Kazmaier's total yardage that day was 150 yards greater than that of the entire Cornell team. When he handled the ball 35 times during the game, it meant that every time he ran or passed, Princeton was more than 10 yards closer to the goal line.

Balance and depth, plus Kazmaier, were the Tigers' hallmarks that year, and they went on to record a second consecutive undefeated season, running their string since early October of 1949 to 24. Kazmaier was named an All-American for the second year in a row and in his senior year became the only Princetonian ever to win the Heisman Trophy.

For those who never saw him play, cold figures should make believers of anyone who tends to feel undue glamour has been attached to his achievements with the passage of time. These are his personal totals against the composite statistics for Princeton's nine opponents in 1951:

	Kazmaier	Opponents
Rushing Attempts	149	354
Rushing Yardage	861	669
Average Gain	6.1	1.9
Passing Yardage	976	923
Passes Attempted	123	154
Passes Completed	77	59
Percent Completed	63	38
Average Gain	8.0	6.0
Passes Intercepted	5	11
Punts	29	76
Punting Average	36	35
Touchdowns (responsible for)	22	12

Why 42 Isn't Worn Today

Late in August of 1952, a Princetoo sportswriter asked Dan Coyle, the Tigers' Director of Sports Information, to whom number 42 bad been assigned for the coming season. For the past three years, it had been worn by Dick Kazmaier, the halfback whose football accomplishments became a legend before he graduated.

"There won't be any 42 this year," Coyle reported after checking out the inquiry. "Eddie Zanfrini (whose many jobs as team trainer including issuing jerseys) said, 'Kaz was my boy, and nobody is going to get his number as long as I'm around.'"

Zanfrini, who died about a decade ago, still has his wish. Although the University has never made an official acknowledgement, 42 was retired the day that Kaz took off his shirt at the end of the 1951 season.

thereafter.

On Sunday, the team played a strong Yale varsity team in New Haven, and wound up regular season play in dramatic style. Four quarters of play and two 10-minute overtimes did not produce a goal by either side. PDS had the edge in shots 16-7, but could score.

However, it had been decided before the game, that a tie would be decided by penalty shots at the end. Each team selected five players and the shoot out began. Christy Black missed the first for PDS, but Yale also missed.

Next up, Sandra Benson made hers and Yale missed again. Drew Rosenberg made another for the Panthers and when Yale missed twice more, and PDS had a 2-0 victory. Taback praised goalie Carolyn Hartshorne for making three nice saves. He also cited Rosenberg, fullbacks Julia Penick and Benson and halfbacks Olivia Wong and Susan Paine for their play.

LAWRENCEVILLE WINS

Blanks Choate 23-0. The Lawrenceville football team put it all together Saturday to defeat Choate 23-0 before a large Parents Day crowd. Bob Castelo, junior fullback, scored three times and chalked up 104 yards in 25 carries to pace the Larries to their sixth straight win.

The first quarter was an even struggle as neither team could mount a sustained drive. In the second quarter, The Larries recovered a Choate fumble and marched 48 yards in 10 plays for their first score. Castelo drove over from the two yard line, and John Blomfield booted the extra point.

In the third quarter, the Larries again captured a Choate fumble and marched 81 yards in 19 plays for the score. Castelo plunged over from the two-yard line, and again Blomfield added the point after.

Early in the fourth quarter, tailback Kevin Ellis boomed a 62-yard quick kick which was downed on the Choate three inch line. Two plays later, linebacker Orazio Lattanzi blitzed through the line to tackle the Choate ball carrier for a safety. Late in the fourth quarter, Castelo scored his third touchdown on a plunge up the middle, and Blomfield added the extra point.

In a series dating back to 1932, Lawrenceville has won 21 games to Choate's 19, and there have been three ties. The Larries last win came four years ago.

All win and loss records will be disregarded this Saturday, as the Larries travel to Pottstown, Pennsylvania to take on the Hill School, a traditional rival, for their last game of the season.

PAA STARTS SEASON

In Winter Swimming. The Princeton Aquatic Association swimmers began the winter season last week with fine results in two novice meets sponsored by the New Jersey AAU.

At the Paramus Boys Club Saturday Brent Matheson won two firsts in the 9-10 age group (50-yard free in 32.5; 50-yard fly in 35.0) to qualify as an "A" swimmer. In the same age group, Mike Kole placed second with an A time of 42.9 in the 50-yard breaststroke. Witney Barringer swam to a second place in the 11-12 age group with 1:25.0 in the 100-yard backstroke.

At the Passaic - Clifton Y on Sunday, the girls achieved an "AAA" (highest qualification) time in the 50-yard freestyle in the 11-12 year age group; Lynne Harkness placed second with 28.4. She also qualified as an "A" swimmer in the 50-yard fly with a second place.

TONY STRONG'S BIG DAY: Princeton High School tailback Tony Strong had his best offensive game ever Saturday, leading the Little Tigers to a 9-0 victory over Lawrence High. The 5-7, 160-lb. senior rushed for 101 yards in the first half, ending with 139. "Dynamite" was the way PHS coach Jim Beachell described his performance. In the upper left, Strong is stopped by a host of Cardinal tacklers in the first period, but he was only warming up. In lower left, he sweeps right end for 16 yards and a first down. In the middle picture, Tony is free up the middle for a first down to the 30-yard line. At left, he sweeps left end to advance from the PHS 9 to the 30 -- a 21-yard gain and the beginning of a 91-yard drive that culminated in a 13-yard field goal on the last play of the first half, Tony scored the game's only touchdown on a three-yard sweep with 4:39 left in the game.

Sports in Princeton

"A" times were also achieved in the 9-10 age group by Jennifer Pierson, first in the 50-yard fly, and third in the 50-yard backstroke, and Laurie Long, second in the 50-yard back. In the 8-U events, Helena Wronski placed second in the 25-yard backstroke and 25-yard breaststroke.

THE BIG ONE SATURDAY

PHS Vs. Notre Dame. The nagging questions — when will Tony Strong break loose and when will Princeton High get its offense going — were answered Saturday — in spades.

Strong rushed for 139 yards in 25 carries, 101 in the first half, and the team piled up 318 total yards on the ground as two other backs, Keith Wadsworth and Bob Campbell, also enjoyed standout games on offense. The result, PHS blanked Lawrence High Saturday, 9-0 for its third Colonial Valley conference victory against one league loss.

Now, an even more important question remains. Can PHS defeat Notre Dame this week? It's THE game of the season for the Little Tigers.

Notre Dame has flip - flopped from the most hapless team around to one of the best — in one season. Winless its previous two seasons, the Irish, under new coach Chappy Moore, are 6-1 this year and are 3-0 in the League. PHS is a half - game back at 3-1.

ND narrowly escaped its first league setback last week when it combined a 55 - yard TD pass with just 47 seconds left and a two - point conversion play to edge Hightstown, 15-14. PHS blanked Hightstown, 7-0, in its best game of the season.

"It'll be a big game," agreed PHS coach Jim Beachell, who reported that he has seen the Irish play only once this year. "They're really good."

The contest will take place at the PHS field, starting at 11.

Notre Dame is primarily a running team, its attack centered around the trio of Jeff Schrader, Chris Schaible and Carl Fuccello. As it improves week after week, a Cinderella mantle has descended on the Irish — a feeling that this is their year and the odds no longer apply. The dramatic Hightstown win is a good example.

But PHS has proven it can explode on the ground, and the Little Tigers and Beachell want this one badly. "We're right in there, said Beachell commenting on the League standings. For PHS, all the marbles ride on this one."

PHS Tackles Shifted. Against Lawrence (1-5), Strong and his fellow rampaging backs got the job done — PHS completed only two passes — but credit Beachell and his staff with an assist. "We made an offensive change at tackle," explained Beachell after the game.

He switched the regular offensive tackles, 220-lb. Jean - Paul Maman and 185 - lb. Karim ElMiligi, with their starting counterparts on defense, 180 - lb. Bruno Perna and 175 - lb. Eric Suber. "We were able to attack more, we were quicker off the line," Beachell added.

All four played a standout game in their new roles. The holes on offense were opening. A familiar sight was fullback Wadsworth almost startled to find himself alone so often in the Lawrence secondary.

Still, PHS was unable to get on the scoreboard. And with 1:35 left in the half and the ball on the nine following a nice punt by the Cardinals' Jack Brunner, it didn't seem as if the Little Tigers would, either.

But Strong and Wadsworth rushed for 37 yards in two plays. A pass from Todd Blackledge to Ron Reimann, who made a nice catch over the middle, trapping the ball on his hip, carried to a first down on the 38. A personal foul call against Lawrence and another fine run by Strong moved the ball to the five with 21 seconds left. After Wadsworth got one and a jump pass was no good, one second was left on the clock.

Beachell called "field goal" and Reimann booted it high and true, the ball resting on the nine - yard line.

In the final period, Cardinal quarterback Cory Fredericks had the ball knocked loose when three blue - shirted Little Tigers converged on him and Chris Cahill recovered at midfield. With Strong, Wadsworth and Campbell alternating, the visiting PHS squad drove downfield, Strong sweeping over from the three. The game ended with PHS knocking again on the three - yard line.

Tenafly last week defeated PHS, 4-1, in the finals of the state tournament. Vera Jesser, the number two singles for the Little Tigers, was the lone winner. She finished the season with a 15-0 record.

Princeton's No. 1 player, Karen Clark, lost 3-6, 1-6, to Michele Weiss. Bill Humes, PHS coach, described Weiss, a freshman, as "one of the most complete players I have ever seen."

The number 3 singles for PHS, Leslie Krause, went down 4-6, 5-7, while Princeton's top doubles team of Vicki Phillips and Ellie Rose lost, 1-6, 4-6. Ellie, reported Humes, played with a virus and high temperature.

The number two doubles of Carol Ludlum and Diane Aronovic fell, 1-6, 5-7. In the semi - finals, PHS had ousted Haddonfield, 4-1, as Clark, Jesser, Krause and Rose and Phillips all won. Princeton's final record for the season is 14-1.

"Without question," commented Humes, "the girls did themselves proud." He promised that they would return next year and avenge their loss to Tenafly.

WEST WINDSOR WINS

On Birnbaum's Toe. Junior Mark Birnbaum converted all four extra point kicks to provide the West Windsor football team with the margin it needed last week to capture a come-from-behind win over St. Anthony.

As it had in previous games, West Windsor came on strong in the final period, scoring 14 points to win, 28-26. St. Anthony had led 20-7 at the half.

Chris Holcombe forced a fumble and Tom Murphy recovered to set up the winning touchdown, a square out pass from Dave Watson to Dave Bornheimer for five yards that came with 1:41 remaining. The Pirates' other three TDs all came on one-yard runs--one by Holcombe in the first period and one each by Watson and Ron Dilatush in the resurgent second half. Dilatush, a 185-lb. fullback, rushed for 141 yards, a school record.

The win was West Windsor's first in the Colonial Valley League--it has one league game left with Hightstown--and its second in seven starts.

North Brunswick Next. Ahead for West Windsor is a Saturday meeting with visiting North Brunswick, which raised its record to 4-3 last week with a 14-0 win over New Burnswick. Starting time is 1:30.

"They have a nice team," commented WW coach Rex Walker. The Pirates have yet to beat North Brunswick in two years of varsity competition.

"St Anthony had its offense going in the first half," said Walker after the game." They were guessing right on us."

"In the second half, we just switched it around; we were guessing right on them. It just opened everything up. I think we were stopped on only one series in the second half."

"The potential has always been there," continued Walker. "We've been averaging more than 200 yards on offense, which is pretty good for a high school team, but we've had trouble getting into the end zone. This tiem, every time we got down there, we went in. I hope we can keep it up."

Watson, the Pirates's senior quarterback, continues to pass with accuracy. He was 8 for 10 against St. Anthony and Walker reported it could very well have been 10 for 10. One pass was dropped and another was caught out of bounds.

BUDD SCORES FOUR TDs

In Midget League Win. Steve Budd, the leading scorer in the Princeton Midget Football league, scored all four touchdowns as Nassau Conover defeated Princeton Fuel Oil, 25-0, and Mike Mazzola galloped 80 yards on the last play of the game in Rug Mart's 18-0 blanking of U-Store in league games held last week.

As a result, the two winners remain tied for league honors with 3-1 records. They will play the final league game Sunday, November 21.

Budd scored once in each period on a two-yard plunge, five-yard run, 40-yard draw play and 11-yard run. He has scored 55 points and rushed for 435 yards in 44 carries.

Also playing key roles in the Nassau-Conover scoring were quarterback Dave Dinella, the league's leading passer with 18 completions in 40 attempts for 306 yards, and Judd Petrone the league's leading receiver with eight catches for 102 yards.

Nassau's second score was set up when Dinella hit Petrone with back-to-back aerials that carried the victors inside the Fuel Oil ten-yard stripe. Petrone ended with three receptions for 57 yards while Dinella connected on five of eleven for 79 yards.

Mike McCabe's interception and a 40-yard strike from Dinella to Petrone set up Nassau-Conover's final score. The victors outrushed the losers 171 yards to 24.

The Nassau defense was led by center linebacker Frank Wittaker, who tops the league in tackles with 30, Tim Martin and McCabe. The Fuel Oil defense was lead by Tom Florence, Paul Gellar, Larry McKellar, Billy Snead and Pat Kellog; its offense by the passing of Mike Leahy who completed six of 11 attempts. Both teams lost the ball three times on fumbles.

First Half Scoreless. The first half in the first game between Rug Mart and U-Store was scoreless, although U-Store fullback Bryan Varvel managed to gain a lot of yardage between the 20s, operating out of the wishbone.

Tom Scibetta put Rug Mart on the board when he scored in the third period on a six-yard sweep, and the victors added another six-pointer after Jeff Seiler recovered a Rug Mart fumble on the U-Store 25, only to have middle guard Mike Kennedy intercept a U-Store pass on the next play and return it 25 yards to the end zone.

That was all the scoring until Mazzola's dramatic run-- a pitchout calling for misdirection on running and blocking sent in by coach Tennis Eversen.

Eric Broadway rushed for 41 yards in six carries for Rug Mart, which compiled a 170 to 56-yard advantage on the ground. Bob Dennehy gained 25 yards. Jerome Rex's passing and running highlighted the U-Store attack.

The Rug Mart defense was led by Dan Turgeon, Joe Levine, Dennehy and Scibetta; U-Store's by David Yim, Chip Kleiber, Seiler and Varvel.

JOHNSON ADVANCES

In Hot Shot Competition. Princeton High School freshman David Johnson, 165 Birch Avenue, has advanced to the next round in the Hot Shot Competition sponsored by Pepsico and the National Basketball Association.

Johnson recently placed second in his age group (13-15) from among 30 contestants at Lincoln High School in Philadelphia. First and second place winners advanced to the next Hot Shot shootoff which will be held this week at the Spectrum during halftime of a Philadelphia 76ers game.

Winners at the Spectrum will receive a 76ers uniform and advance to regional competition held in Boston. Two other winners from this area that won in area competitions held in August, but who failed to place at Lincoln High are Mike Petrone (9 to 12) and Kieran Esposito (16 to 18).

Basketball Meeting Set

The Princeton Recreation Department will hold an organizational meeting of the men's basketball league Monday, November 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the Recreation Office, Room 211, in the Valley Road School building.

Those interested in entering a team in the league this winter should send a representative.
